Plan for State Realignment Wins Initial, Fragile Okay

Kellett Task Force Agrees on Package; Public Hearings Set

By JAMES R. POLK
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER
MADISON (AP) — A master plan to realign the state government into 13 major departments has won initial and perhaps fragile approval.

The Kellett task force voiced agreement Friday without any official vote on the reorganization package and pointed it toward public hearings next month before it reaches the 1967 legislature.

The plan would trim the number of state agencies from 86 to 17—the 13 departments and four independent commissions.

Major mergers would involve conservation, welfare, highways and commerce. All the changes would take effect July 1, 1968.

Clouded Future
The package was expected to face a clouded future in the Legislature. But Sen. Robert Knowles, R-New Richmond, who earlier labeled any omnibus bill as "doomed to failure," said Friday: "The progress has been startling."

In four major areas, the task force took these steps:

Agreed to merge the Resource Development Department, which handles water pollution control efforts, and the Conservation Department into a single department of natural resources.

Decided to set up one-year transition boards next July to work out details of both the natural resources merger and the combination of three present departments — welfare, health and veterans affairs into a new department of social services.

Keeps Commission

Voted 8-6 to keep the three-man Highway Commission to oversee road projects, but place it beneath an executive secretary in a new department of transportation comprising the present Highway Department, and Aeronautics Commission.

Recommended creation of an entirely new department of local affairs which would handle urban problems, but left the details on the agency up to the legislature.

Vietnam Progress Report

Lodge Sees No Signs From Hanoi of Peace Movement

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received from Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge a report of progress in Vietnam and a prediction of further gains in 1967.

Lodge, home from his Saigon post for the holidays, gave this account to newsmen at the White House Friday night during discussions with the President and his top advisers.

Lodge said he sees no signs yet of Hanoi interest in peace. But he added he anticipates enough headway in 1967 to be able to see "light at the end of the tunnel" by then, even though the fighting is still going on.

Kinds of Wars

Of what he termed the "four kinds of wars" in Vietnam — conventional arms, political development, economic development and pacification of terrorism — he said the pacification program is making the least progress and "is not yet rolling as it should be."

The 1960 Republican nominee for vice president denied he intends to resign, ducked political questions and backed the administration's Vietnam policy.

Lodge made these points while talking with reporters in the White House lobby:

Johnson made an historic decision in committing U. S. forces in Vietnam and the effect of American activities there has been: to deny to an expansionist Red China "the great edge of Asia" from Korea to Burma.

"This has kept 370 million people out of Communist domination and, worldwide, has contributed to peace because it gives credibility to the word of America."

"In the military war we are doing very well," the effort for political development is going "quite well," the curbing of inflation has been "a satisfactory accomplishment" though still imperfect, and the campaign against terrorism is "going least fast" despite "some progress."

Doing Very Well

—In 1967 the conventional military situation should look "much better," political evolution is in prospect, "I would hope we could hold our own economically" and "I would think we could make a start on pacification."

Leaflets Fall Over Hanoi

U. S. Planes Shower Delta With Millions Of Surrender Pleas

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — American planes showered Hanoi and the Red River delta with millions of surrender leaflets today.

A U. S. spokesman said Air Force planes dropped nearly 2.5 million leaflets calling on the young men of North Vietnam "to leave your unit when you are sent south" and to enjoy good treatment from the allied forces.

The leaflet drop was carried out while a worldwide dispute still raged over American air raids on the North Vietnamese capital area earlier this week.

Communist China claimed its embassy in Hanoi was seriously damaged by the raids, and the North Vietnamese said more than 100 civilians were killed.

Other Targets

The U. S. military command has reported no raids near Hanoi since then, although American planes have struck at other targets in the Communist north. U. S. B-52 bombers struck this

Chinese Say Bombs Hit Hanoi Embassy

U. S. Defense, State Departments Deny Charges Issued From Peking

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China claimed today four U.S. planes dive-bombed its embassy in Hanoi last Wednesday, seriously damaging that building and partly damaging a nearby office of Peking's New China News Agency.

It denounced the alleged attack as "a grave provocation" and said the United States will get "redoubled punishment for your crime."

Other Communist centers, ignoring repeated U.S. denials that the raids had been against anything except non-military targets, joined the controversy.

Charges Denied
North Vietnam's official news agency said American pilots fired rockets at the Red Chinese and Romanian embassies and that U.S. bombers attacked residential areas inside Hanoi and on its outskirts Tuesday and Wednesday.

It charged more than 100 persons were killed or wounded in the two raids.

The U.S. Defense and State Departments have denied the charges.

The U.S. military command in Saigon said: "A complete review of pilot reports and photographs showed that all ordnance expended by U.S. strike aircraft was in the military target areas (five miles south and six miles northeast of the city center). None fell in the city of Hanoi."

The targets those days were a truck park and railroad yard flanking the city.

A French account had said that the Chinese Embassy was "touched by a projectile," phrasing which did not explain either the origin of such a projectile or the result.

The official Chinese protest, issued by a Foreign Ministry spokesman in Peking, termed the alleged attack on its embassy "clearly a grave provocation which U.S. imperialism has carried out deliberately against the Chinese people."

It warned the U.S. government that "your bombing of the Chinese embassy is a mere death-bed struggle and can only further arouse the unbending indignation of the Chinese people against U.S. imperialism; you will certainly receive redoubled punishment for your crime."

The statement said the United States and the Soviet Union "have racked their brains for a series of shameful maneuvers to bring about peace talks by pressure, inducement and cajolery," but declared that neither the North Vietnamese nor the Chinese can be cowed.

Priest Leads Rights Move In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — An estimated 45 civil rights demonstrators, led by a Roman Catholic priest, demonstrated Friday night in a South Milwaukee Church complaining the church cancelled a program because Negro children were to participate.

The demonstration by the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was led by the council's adviser, the Rev. James Groppi, and was joined by six nuns.

The demonstrators sang what they called "freedom songs," and sat in pews of St. Mary's Catholic Church saying they were praying for the church pastor, the Rev. Conrad A. Altenbach.

The Youth Council sponsored picketing in Milwaukee and suburban Wauwatosa earlier this year demanding that prominent members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles quit the club in protest of membership rules.

Quick Decision Possible Over Kennedy Suit

Judge Says He Will Make Choice Soon After Hearing

NEW YORK (AP) — A Manhattan judge indicated today a speedy decision on Mrs. John F. Kennedy's suit to block publication of author William Manchester's book about the assassination of the president.

Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit, ranking Manhattan justice, ordered Manchester and two publishers to appear before him Dec. 27 to show cause why an injunction against the book, "Death of a President," should not be granted.

Streit said he would "decide the matter shortly" after the hearing.

Mrs. Kennedy submitted a 10-page affidavit to the court Friday in her petition to forbid publication of the book. She said in her complaint that publication would cause her "great and irreparable injury" and "result in precisely the sensationalism and commercialism which we — Robert F. Kennedy and I — have sought so strenuously to avoid."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., the late president's brother, submitted a supporting five-page affidavit.

Officials Prepare To Snag Capsule Carrying Specimens

WASHINGTON (AP) — Project officials prepared to bring back to earth today a space capsule containing an assortment of living creatures—from wasps to pepper plants.

The spacecraft, known officially as Biosatellite I, and its complement of "astrobugs" were launched into orbit three days ago from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

The craft is scheduled to fire its retrorockets late today and parachute toward the Pacific Ocean. The plan is for aircraft to snag the capsule as it descends, then fly the specimens to Hawaii for examination.

Council Orders Boycott of Exports, Embargo Goods In History-Making Decision

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Security Council has adopted mandatory economic sanctions for the first time in U.N. history in a move to bring down Rhodesia's white-minority government. But failure to provide for enforcement machinery immediately raised doubts that the boycott would work.

The 15-nation council Friday night ordered all 122 U.N. members to boycott 12 specific exports from Rhodesia and embargo shipments of oil, arms, aircraft, motor vehicles and parts to Rhodesia. It decided that they "shall prevent" the forbidden transactions "by their nationals or in their territories," notwithstanding prior business contracts to the contrary.

The action was embodied in a British resolution modified by African amendments and adopted by a vote of 11-0 with 4 abstentions.

Soviets Abstain
Mali, France, the Soviet Union and Bulgaria abstained.

The purpose of the resolution was to end the rebellion against Britain that began when Prime Minister Ian Smith declared Rhodesia independent Nov. 11, 1965, in the face of British pressure for equal votes for Africans. It put mandatory sanctions in place of the voluntary sanctions the council adopted shortly after that event.

Rejecting five of 13 African amendments, the council refused to deplore Portuguese and

Ask for Report
It also refused to add coal and manufactured goods to Britain's list of exports for boycott — asbestos, iron ore, chrome, pig-iron, sugar, tobacco, copper, meat, meat products, hides, skins and leather.

But through the amendments the council adopted, it bound all members to prevent their nationals, land or air transport facilities or flag vessels from helping supply oil to Rhodesia and it called on all countries to deny Rhodesia economic or financial aid. Finally, it asked U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to report back by next March 1 on "the progress of the implementation of this resolution."

Charged With Conspiracy

Air Force Sergeant Could Receive Death Penalty If Convicted

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP) — An Air Force sergeant who served at the Pentagon in 1965 and part of 1966 has been indicted on charges of conspiring with a Soviet diplomat to commit espionage.

If convicted, Sgt. Herbert W. Boeckenhaupt, 24, could receive the death penalty. He was arrested by the FBI Oct. 31 at March Air Force Base, Riverside, Calif.

In other action Friday in U.S. District Court here, Retired Army Lt. Col. William Henry Whalen pleaded guilty to a charge of conspiring to obtain defense secrets for the Soviet Union.

The cases apparently are unrelated. An espionage charge against Whalen, carrying a possible maximum sentence of execution, was dropped at the government's request.

Delivered Documents
According to the indictment, Boeckenhaupt conspired with Aleksey R. Malinin, a former assistant commercial counselor at the Soviet embassy in Washington, to deliver documents,

Historic Treaty

Approval Expected on Outer Space Accord

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The General Assembly's top political committee was expected to give overwhelming approval today to an historic treaty outlawing the use of outer space for warlike purposes.

The vote comes nine days after President Johnson announced U.S.-Soviet agreement on the terms of the treaty, which represents the first legal code to govern the exploration of outer space.

Johnson hailed the agreement as the "most important arms control development" since the big powers signed the 1963 Moscow accord banning nuclear tests except those held underground.

Some U.N. delegates have expressed hope the space treaty will mark a first step toward an eventual accord to halt or at least curb the arms race on earth.

The treaty provides that no nation will place any space vehicles containing nuclear arms or other weapons of mass destruction into earth orbit or install such weapons on celestial bodies or in outer space.

It also specifies that the moon and other celestial bodies be used "exclusively for peaceful purposes." To insure this, it precludes any claims of national sovereignty to the celestial bodies.

Legendary Virginia Relives 'Moment'

NORTH CHATHAM, N.Y. (AP) — Weakened by months of illness but smiling at the glow of children's faces, Virginia O'Hanlon Douglas relived Friday night the happiness she knew 69 years ago in reading, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus."

Mrs. Douglas, 77 and a great-grandmother, read the famed New York Sun editorial at a community Christmas party for the children of North Chatham.

her home for the past seven years.

"This is a season of gratitude," she had said in an interview shortly before the party, explaining why she wanted to read to the children despite a series of mild strokes that briefly left her unable to speak.

Sitting in a chair covered with red velvet, she read through the editorial without hesitation.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist. How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias."

The editorial, written in 1897 by assistant editor Francis P. Church, had been published in answer to a letter from Mrs. Douglas. As a girl of 8, she wrote: "Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

At the time, Mrs. Douglas recalled, she believed Santa Claus

Historic Treaty
The treaty will come into force after approval by the General Assembly and ratification by at least five governments, including the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain.

Johnson said he would ask the Senate for quick ratification next year so that the United States would be one of the first to support the pact.

Two Rivers '5' Deals Kimberly 63-53 Setback

Wildenberg, of Papermakers, Tops
Scoring With 18

TWO RIVERS — The Two Rivers Raiders won their first Mid-Eastern Conference tilt Friday night by downing the Papermakers of Kimberly, 63-53.

The hosts jumped off to an early lead, led by eight at the intermission, and never trailed in the contest. The Papermakers did pull within two early in the third period, but the hosts netted a quick seven to put the game in their possession for the remainder of the contest.

Jeff Wildenberg took scoring honors with 18 for the Papermakers, while Steve Rebarchek hit for 14 for the Purple Raiders.

Both teams now have 1-3 M-E ledgers.

Tiger Upsets Jose Torres

Scores Unanimous
15-Round Decision
Over New Yorker

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger, the old gaffer who appeared all washed up eight months ago, today had a fresh career ahead of him as light heavyweight champion of the world at age 37.

The first fighting business ahead for the valiant ring warrior from Nigeria probably will be a return bout with Jose Torres, the 30-year-old New Yorker he upset and dethroned Friday night on a popular and unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden.

"I'll fight anybody," said the jubilant, former middleweight king, "it's up to my managers."

Torres, who had predicted he would win every round and then knock out Tiger, said "I thought I won the fight even though I fought a bad fight, a very bad fight."

"I knew he was talk, talk all the time," said Tiger. "I knew I could beat him. I was much stronger at 167 pounds."

Tiger said making the middleweight limit of 160 pounds hurt him last April 25 when he lost that title to then welterweight champion Emile Griffith. At 167, Tiger spotted Torres eight pounds.

A 3-1 underdog to Torres, winner of three title defenses earlier in the year, Tiger took a boxing lesson from the defender in the first five rounds and then came on like a tidal wave.

With the victory, Tiger, who had lost to the 150½-pound Griffith, became the first former middleweight champion to win the light heavyweight crown, too, in 63 years. Bob Fitzsimmons did it first in 1903.

Fond du Lac Rallies to Tip Appleton by 46-44 Margin

Diener Leads Cards With 26 Markers

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The Fond du Lac basketball Cardinals proved here Friday night that it's more advantageous to score the last three points of a game than to record the first seven points, as they logged an uphill, 46-44 victory over Appleton High School.

Fondy's brilliant Dick Diener, whose 26-point shooting proved the difference between the well-matched quintets, appropriately put his team ahead to stay (45-44) by connecting from short range with 2 minutes, 35 seconds remaining. And, it was Diener who added insurance, via a free throw, with 10 seconds left.

AHS, which had scored the game's first seven points enroute to an 11-point edge (24-13 late in the first half), tallied with 3 minutes, 16 seconds left, as Bob Simon converted a steal into a 44-43 lead. The Terrorists, despite three or four shots from good scoring territory in the final 3:16 of hectic action, were blanked the rest of the way.

Appleton, which led continuously for the first 25 minutes, 23 seconds of the game, couldn't stand prosperity and couldn't fend off indefinitely the Diener-led Fondy insistency. Diener, despite being the marked man of three or four AHS defensive variations, fired home nine of 18 floor shots — including several sensational pivots.

The tide began to turn, most unexpectedly, after Gary Lutz '20-forty had given AHS an 8-point lead (35-27) with only 1:55 left in the third quarter. The Cards produced six fast points — on Larry Bornemann baskets — and a goal by Steve Julka — and, at quarter's end, the Terror lead had been sliced to 35-33.

FOND DU LAC — Despite a 16-point fourth quarter effort by John St. Peter, St. Mary Springs Academy dropped its third consecutive Fox Valley Conference tilt in bowing to St. John of Little Chute, 70-57 here Friday night.

St. John is now 1-2 in Fox Valley Catholic Conference action and 4-2 overall, while the Springs is 0-3 in the league and 0-7 overall.

Angry Vince Prods Packers In Workout

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) —

Coach Vince Lombardi scolded his Green Bay Packers Friday for missing assignments and loafing during a warm-up for the Los Angeles Rams game.

The Packers then turned on the steam for the final 30 minutes of the 90-minute workout, and Lombardi said his original displeasure was nothing unusual.

"I don't know who you guys think you are," he said to the Packers. "If the Rams beat you you'll never come back. You fellows are supposed to be a championship team, but you must have been lucky to get where you are."

St. John's, Oscar Schuler scored 12 points during the first half and finished with 14. Lloyd Hackel led, with 18.

Both teams attempted full-court presses but the Little Chute '3' dropped the press at the quarter when it started committing too many fouls. Don Ecke had three fouls before the end of the first quarter.

In the final quarter St. Peter sparked the St. Mary rally by hitting on seven consecutive jump shots from the right corner. He finished with 28 points. The Ledgers, however, were unable to keep pace with St. John.

Weber took the game's scoring honors, hitting 26 markers. He was assisted by Al Janke, who added 14. For the Trojans, Rod Anderson hit 14.

The win was the third in Fox Valley Conference action for the Indians, against two losses. The Trojans are 1-4.

Neenah Tips Ghosts, 95-81; Xavier Defeats Pennings '5'

Rockets Take
Lead in M-E
Conference

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — Brilliant floor play coupled with deadly shooting were turned into an unbeatable combination by Neenah Friday night as it outfigured Kaukauna, 95-81, to capture the solo lead in the Mid-Eastern Conference at the holiday break.

The defeat was the first in seven games for the Ghosts and they now share second place with Clintonville. For Neenah, it marked the second straight Friday night it had inflicted a first defeat on an opponent. Shawano was the earlier victim.

Things looked pretty bleak for Coach Doug Martin's charges in the early going as they fell behind, 13-2, and, 15-3, but once their guns began to fire they made plenty of noise.

By the end of the initial period, they had slimmed the lead to a point and they began to gain momentum in the second period, finally closing out the night's work with a blistering 29-point fourth stanza.

While Neenah was popping away with regularity, the Ghosts held a pretty hot hand, too, and didn't allow their foes to get out of range until about four minutes remained in the fourth period when the lead shot above and remained over 10 points.

The Red and White began to take command of the board work in the second period and received an added boost when the Ghosts' Dennis Carstens fouled out with 5:20 left to play and his team only trailing by six points. Neenah's final unofficial rebounding edge was 52 to 30.

The statistics show the Rockets finding the nets at 46 per cent clip on 37 baskets in 80 tries. Kaukauna made 43 per cent on 30 of 69, good enough to win many games.

Exceptional passing by the Rockets frequently found teammates open for baskets and when they missed, they often had two or three tips before scoring or Kaukauna took over. Gary Losse accounted for 15 of the assists.

Turning Point

If there was a turning point in the game it probably came with 2:15 left in the first half when trailing 35-34, the winners made seven of the last nine points to claim a 41-37 lead at the mid-point.

The third quarter lead shot up to 13 points but the Kaws refused to collapse and put together a string of nine of their own to trim the margin to 57-54.

A chain of seven by the Rockets turned the tide.

Linke Leads Bulldogs Past Menasha, 60-51

BY ROGER PITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEW LONDON — Henry Linke finally broke loose for the New London Bulldogs and the result was a 60-51 drubbing of the Menasha Bluejays in a Mid-Eastern conference clash here Friday.

The victory snapped a New London losing streak at four games and was the first for Coach David Hendricks as varsity mentor.

Linke, although not the sole factor in the decision, accounted for a game leading 20 points. He broke the game open in the first period scoring 10 of the Bulldogs' 14 points, opening a 10-point spread over Menasha.

Linke did not make his presence felt again until the fourth stanza when he duplicated the first-quarter performance.

As important as the revival of the big rebounder, was the improvement shown by the entire Bulldog contingent in shooting.

New London swished 10 of 27 shots in the opening half, while Menasha struggled to make six of 27. The Bluejays worked the final period to narrow its deficit to nine points, 52-43, with 2:56 left. But when Steve Jansen picked up his fifth foul it was the end. Linke greeted the Jays with four points and a 56-43 lead.

In the second half, the Jays found the west basket to be more suitable pouring in 14 of 27. The Bluejays worked the final period to narrow its deficit to nine points, 52-43, with 2:56 left. But when Steve Jansen picked up his fifth foul it was the end. Linke greeted the Jays with four points and a 56-43 lead.

Balanced Attack Leads FVL to 64-60 Conference Win

Depner, Mueller Pace Triumph
Over Previously Unbeaten Falcons

BY STEVE WILSON
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fox Valley Lutheran's hustling Foxes employed a balanced scoring attack and a scrappy zone defense to upset the Concordia Falcons, 64-60, and register their first Midwest Prep Conference victory of the season Friday night at the FVL gym.

Gary Depner and Paul Mueller, a pair of 5-11 ball hawks, shared the hero's role in the final three minutes as the Foxes snapped a 56-56 tie and tumbled the stunned Falcons from the ranks of the unbeaten.

With 2:37 remaining, Depner rimmed a jumper to move Fox Valley in front to stay, 58-56. Half a minute later, Depner calmly dropped in two free throws to increase the margin to 60-56.

Slick Steal Helps

Mueller took over in the final 60 seconds to help seal the Foxes' second win of the year. With about a minute to play, Mueller expeditiously swiped a Concordia pass to dampen the Milwaukee club's hopes of pulling the game out of the fire. Fouled in the final seconds, Mueller hit two charities for icing on the victory cake.

FVL got off to its typically slow start in the first quarter as the Falcons solved a full-court press for a 19-13 lead. Midway through the second period, Depner canned a jumper which put the resurgent Foxes ahead 24-23. They managed to add four more points to the margin and carried a 33-28 edge into the dressing room at intermission.

With Mueller, Dave Tiedt and Howie Korth finding the range, FVL tallied six straight points at the opening of the third quarter and led 39-28. The Falcons sliced the lead to 46-42 at the end of the period, and went on to finally deadlock the score at 56-44.

4 Hit Double Figures

Tiedt paced the shooters with 17 points on six buckets and five free throws. Mueller counted 13. Korth 14, Darwin Tiede 10 and Depner eight. Scott Seider topped Concordia with 15, while Rich Neitzel chipped in 14. Tom Raabe, the MPC's scoring leader with a 22.3 average going into the game, collected only four baskets.

Fouls were a decisive factor as three Concordia players each collected their fifth in the fourth quarter. FVL tossed in 20 charity shots, twice as many as the visitors managed.

As the Xavier press forced the Squires into more violations and bad passes, the Hawks were quick to take advantage of the breaks. Fitzgerald, who wound up the game's high point man with 22, contributed a layup and free throw, and Tom Heinritz and Gene Jack each tallied baskets in the last 2:16 of the half to build the 30-21 edge at the buzzer.

Rams Eye Spot In Runnerup Bowl Contest

Need Triumph
Over Packers to Earn Miami Trip

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams would like to try for a share of playoff money in the National Football League's runnerup bowl, but must defeat the Green Bay Packers Sunday afternoon to win the trip to Miami.

The Packers have already won the league's Western Conference crown, but showed little sign during drills this week that they intend to make things easy for Los Angeles.

Ken Iman, a Packer delivered to Los Angeles two years ago during Green Bay's acquisition of Zete Bratkowski, had earned $14,188 in playoff rewards while with the Packers. "That may seem like peanuts to the Packers, but it means a lot to us," he said.

Iman rated the Rams' chances over Green Bay at fifty-fifty. The Packers "are good as ever, but we're no slouches either."

Coach George Allen's Rams lost 24-13 to Green Bay in September, after which he remarked: "We'll beat them in L.A."

Los Angeles carries an 8-5 record into its final test of the regular season. Allen said he had told the squad July 1 that "our goal was a 9-5 record."

"I said that if we played alert football and didn't lose any key men through injuries, we had a chance to surprise everybody," he said.

The Rams were rated as a fifth-place finisher when the season opened. They had a 4-10 record last season.

Iman said he expects the Packers to win all their post-season tests.

"I think Green Bay will go all the way," he said. "I know how those guys react when the chips are on the line, and with the old man on them."

Hawks Tip Squires by 64-54 Score

BY RON WITT
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A lightning-like second period flurry that turned a 21-18 deficit into a 30-21 halftime lead spurred Xavier's hustling Hawks to a 64-54 triumph over a stubborn but mistake-prone De Pere Abbot-Pennings quintet here Friday night.

The victory was the eighth in nine games for Gene "Torchy" Clark's squad, and it boosted the Hawks' Fox Valley Catholic Conference mark to 3-1. Pennings dropped its second contest in three starts in league competition.

Following a hectic first quarter which saw the score tied three times and the lead change hands on nine occasions, the Hawks regained the edge at 15-14 on Gene Jack's jumper from the side. The Hawks' all-court zone press paid dividends moments later, as Pat Fitzgerald picked up a loose ball and hit on a driving layup and free toss to give Xavier an 18-14 advantage.

The Squires briefly solved the Xavier defense with some bold cross-court passing, and the tactics brought Dave Doro three quick baskets and a free throw to put his club back in the lead at 21-18. It was to be the final lead Pennings would enjoy for the night.

With a little under four minutes left on the scoreboard, Terry Graff fired in the first Hawk bucket from the key to make it 21-20. When Xavier stole the ball again, Dan Hardy got a great feed from Tom Heinritz underneath to put the Hawks ahead to stay, 22-21.

As the Xavier press forced the Squires into more violations and bad passes, the Hawks were quick to take advantage of the breaks. Fitzgerald, who wound up the game's high point man with 22, contributed a layup and free throw, and Tom Heinritz and Gene Jack each tallied baskets in the last 2:16 of the half to build the 30-21 edge at the buzzer.

Dale Smith led a brief Pennings charge at the start of the third frame, hitting a long one-hander from the corner and adding a free throw to pull the Squires within six at 30-24. But Xavier's constant harassment of the Squires' backcourt men never allowed Pennings to gain momentum to get any closer. Fitzgerald hit four goals in the period and Heinritz three to keep the Xavier margin at 7-12 points. It was 49-39 going into the final eight minutes.

Coach Don LaViolette's five made its last gasp with 4:49 to play, when Mike Doeren netted two free throws after two buckets by Denny Reis, as the Squires cut the Xavier lead to 51-45. However, when Gene Jack worked for a reverse layup behind the Pennings' 1-3-1 zone, it broke the visitors' spirit and the Hawks were able to coast the final minutes.

Jack, who had a miserable first half from the field, wound up second to Fitzgerald with 13 points, and Heinritz added 12. Pennings had four starters in double figures, with Doeren's 13 leading the way.

Neither club was any dynamo in the shooting department, as the Hawks made 26 of 79 for 32.9 per cent, and Pennings hit on 19 of 63 attempts for 30.1 per cent. Xavier might well have run away with the game, except for some poor foul shooting. Hardy made two of 12 attempts, as Xavier connected on 14 of 27.

The Squires managed 14 of 24. PENNINGINGS (14-7-18-54) — Doro 5 1 5; Smith 4 4 4; Doeren 5 3 3; Reis 5 4 1; Van Dyke 0 2 4; Klusmeyer 1 0 2; Alberts 0 0 1. Totals 20-14-20.

Winneconne '5' Hands Shiocton First Defeat; Brillion, Reedsville Win

Shiocton High School was nudged out of the Little Nine Conference unbeaten ranks Friday night, but the Brillion and Reedsville basketball teams scored their third straight wins to share first place.

Winneconne beat Shiocton, 59-54. Brillion and Reedsville raced to 94-55 and 78-61 victories over Wrightstown and Denmark, respectively. Hilbert edged Hortonville, 52-50, and Omro whipped Freedom, 86-48.

Winneconne took advantage of bonus situations at the free throw line in the last three minutes to outlast Shiocton.

A disastrous four-point second quarter for Shiocton gave the visiting Wolves a 28-19 edge at the half, but the Chiefs rallied to tie the score at 52-all. Gary Johnson and Dan Gast led the Shiocton resurgence with 14 and and the hosts' lead was back up to four points. But, the resilient Cards bounced back for six more hurried points. Julka hit from 17 feet, Diener tied the score, 37-37 (the first Fondy draw of the entire evening) on a pivot shot, and Diener came right back with a 20-footer. With 6:01 remaining, the Cards held their first lead, 39-37.

The teams traded points hectically until Simon's interception-and-field goal maneuver gave Appleton a short-lived 44-43 edge.

Hoffman Scores 17

AHS' George Hoffman was the game's only double-figure scorer, besides Diener, as the defenses dominated the scene. Hoffman sank seven of 15 field shots and 3-for-3 from the foul line to finish with 17 points.

Outscored, 17 to 16, from the field, the Cards fashioned their victory margin from the foul line — sinking 14 of 25, while AHS was making 10 out of 18.

Neither team was able to hit even 30 per cent of its floor shots against the aggressive defensive style of its foe. AHS connected on only 17 of 62 (27.4 per cent) against the Fondy 1-2-2 game. Despite Diener's high average, Fondy was able to garner but a .296 pace (16 of 54) against AHS' multiple defenses (zone press, sagging man-to-man and a zone). Fondy came back strong, though, from a 5-for-29 first half to net 11 of 25 after intermission.

Fond du Lac improved its Fox River Valley Conference record to 4-1 and its over-all standard to 5-2. AHS is 3-2 in the league and 4-2 in all games.

Ref Hospitalized Following Attack By Hockey Player

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A member of the Johnstown Jets of the Eastern Hockey League charged a referee Friday night and hit him with a hockey stick, sending the official to a hospital.

The referee, Ed Pantalone, was admitted to Conemaugh Valley Memorial Hospital and listed in fair condition. The extent of his injuries was not known immediately.

"It Was Here a Minute ago." That's what Xavier guard Tom Heinritz (30) seems to be saying as the basketball momentarily bounces above his head and out of his view. Trying to get to the ball are Pennings' players Dennis Reis (25), Dale Smith (31) and an unidentified Xavier player. The Squires' Mike Doeren (35) watches the action. Xavier won, 64-54. West Wins 23rd Straight in FRVC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin prep basketball action saw the continuation of two long winning streaks and one extremely long losing streak Friday night.

The top ranked teams in the AP Big Ten and Little Ten polls won their games easily while four teams in the rankings went down to defeat.

Green Bay West won its 23rd straight Fox River Valley Conference game at the expense of Sheboygan South 85-56, setting a new league record. West is now 6-0 for the season and ranks seventh in the Big Ten poll.

Farther upstate, Wausaukee won its 17th straight Marinette-Oconto Conference game by drubbing Lena 89-18. Wausaukee is now 7-0 for the season.

An extremely long losing streak is the property of Sevastopol which dropped its 41st straight Peninsula Conference game. Southern Door won 96-37.

Lincoln Ramps

Milwaukee Lincoln, Big Ten kingpin, downed Milwaukee Pulaski 97-76. Alma, the Little Ten Leader, beat Gilmanton 78-59.

Three Big Ten teams lost their first games of the season. Fifth-ranked Racine Park fell to rival Racine Horlick 67 - 59. Milwaukee Don Bosco lost to Waukesha Memorial 60-40, and Janesville to Beloit 78-67.

Don Bosco and Janesville shared the No. 10 spot in the Big Ten poll.

Ninth-ranked Benton was the only Little Ten team to lose. Highland won easily 59-42.

Haney Offers Lopez Position With Angels

If He Can Make Grade

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — Outfielder Hector Lopez, released by the New York Yankees after the 1966 season, can have a job with the California Angels, provided he can make the grade.

General Manager Fred Haney said Friday the 34-year-old Lopez has been invited to spring training in Palm Springs as a free agent.

Lopez, now playing ball in Panama, appeared in 54 games with New York last season. He batted .214, hit four home runs and drove in 16 runs.

Coaches a Loser

Following his prosperity at Buffalo, Saban found out again what it was like to have a loser as Maryland finished with a 4-6 record. He might not find the Broncos much different — at least not at first.

In other coaching developments, Bill Dooley, an assistant at Georgia, turned down the head job at Mississippi State and then was reported to be the choice at North Carolina. Johnny Majors, an Arkansas assistant, was said to be the new No. 1 candidate at Mississippi State.

Steve Musseau, meanwhile, was retained as head coach at Idaho.

Bear Creek Tops White Lake, 70-64

WHITE LAKE — Bear Creek put on a third quarter spurge to edge past White Lake, 70-64, against the Minnesota Twins and in a Wolf River Conference game here Friday night.

Bruins trailed the Lakers, 30-28, at the half but rallied to take a 52-46 lead at the end of the third frame. Al Affeldt paced the winners with 18 points, but White Lake's Bob Oatman took game honors with 23.

Little Ten, beat Wrightstown 94-55 for its fifth straight win this season. The Lions have scored more than 90 points in every game.

Salem beat Burlington St. Mary's 68-46 on the strength of Bill Ivy's 26 points and Dan Pflueger's 23 points.

But that display of marksmanship was outdone by Grafton which beat Kewaskum 78 - 60.

Grafton sharpshooters Tom Roy, Dean Tonn and Jeff Cebulski scored 24, 22 and 21 points respectively.

Wisconsin Rapids, ranked second in the Big Ten poll, received a scare from Stevens Point. The Pointers sank 58 per cent of their shots in the first half and walked off with a 37-30 lead at half-time.

Rapids applied a full court press in the second half. The strategy paid off as Rapids overwhelmed Stevens Point 55-23 in the second half.

Gary Dempze contributed 26 points to Rapids' 85-60 victory.

Rich Halverson scored 34 point for North Crawford which beat Weston 70-61.

Prairie du Chien tipped Boscobel 62 - 61. Larry Rasmussen scored 31 points for the victor, but the game honors went to Dave Moldren who tallied 32 points for Boscobel.

Unity and Luck still share the lead in the St. Croix Valley conference with 4-0 records. Unity sneaked by Grantsburg 53 - 51 while Luck downed St. Croix Falls 69-56.

Monroe Whips Fort

Monroe No. 3 in the Big Ten and now 5-1, defeated Fort Atkinson 75-61 while No. 4 Wausau downed Menomonee 68 - 57.

Wausau is 5-1. Neenah, No. 6 and also 5-1, defeated Kaukauna 95-81.

Eight-ranked La Crosse Center, now 5-1, crawled past Eau Claire 66-62 in double overtime. Appleton Xavier, No. 9 and 8-1, sloped De Pere Pennings 64-54.

Royal, No. 2 in the Little Ten felled Sparta 63-58. Hillsboro and Holmen, tied for third place, were victorious. Hillsboro beat Cashton 87-36 and Holmen, get-

Badgers, South Carolina In Finals of Tournament

UW Edges by Fordham, 67-66; Warriors Bow by 63-61 Margin

By KEN HARTNETT

Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE Wis. (AP) — More than 100 years after the Civil War, nullification has finally started to work for South Carolina.

A nullified Marquette basket gave the unbeaten Gamecocks a 63-61 victory over the Warriors Friday night and shoved them into the finals of the Milwaukee Basketball Classic opposite Wisconsin tonight.

The Badgers with the help of two clutch free throws by sophomore Chuck Nagle downed Fordham's rallying Rams 67-66.

John C. Calhoun invoked nullification for secession - minded South Carolina in the 19th Century. Referee Bud Lowell invoked it Friday night, disallowing a Paul Carbins tip-in that would have tied the game in the final second.

"Oh yes, Carbins definitely interfered with the shot," said Gamecock Coach Frank McGuire.

Referee's Call

"I don't want to say a thing about it," said Marquette Coach Al McGuire. "It was the referee's call. It's his prerogative."

The Warrior coach added, "We've got the film. It should be interesting."

Lowell ruled that Carbins interfered with a shot by Brad Luchini while it was in flight. The rules forbid a player to touch any part of the basket or rim while a shot is in the air. "I touched the rim," Carbins admitted.

The ruling turned delirium to the darkest despair. The Warriors, down 58-53 with about three minutes to play had come back with the help of three South Carolina turnovers, two Brad Luchini baskets and a Carbins tip-in to close the score to 59-57 with one minute and thirty seconds to play.

Technical Foul

A technical foul - the fourth drawn by South Carolina during the dispute-ridden game-brought the Warriors within a point at 59-58 and gave them the ball after Bob Wolf sank the free shot.

But Wolf missed a jump shot from the top of the key and the Gamecocks got the ball. Jack Thompson was fouled. He made both shots and the South Carolina victory seemed safe with only 32 seconds left.

But Marquette's Jim Burke drove basket-ward in hopes of pulling off a three-point play. He missed the layup, but drew the foul. He got the first shot but missed the bonus toss and it was 61-59, South Carolina.

Skip Harlicka was the next to be fouled. He made both shots for the Gamecocks and the score was 63-59. But quick Burke basket out the lead to 63-61.

Again Thompson was fouled. This time he missed his shot. Marquette got the rebound and drove downcourt. The ball went to Luchini who pumped with a one hander. It seemed off target but Carbins coaxed it through.

While Marquette lost a game it thought it had tied, Wisconsin almost lost a game it seemingly wrapped up twice.

First Victory

The Badgers, in getting their first Classic victory since 1963 and evening their season record at 2-2, blew a 25-12 lead in the first half and almost let a 51-41 lead slip away in the second.

It took the cool Nagle to ice the victory with his two free throws with 22 seconds remaining. That gave the Badgers a 67-64 lead, just big enough to withstand a final basket by the Rams' Bill Langheld.

Nagle led Wisconsin with 18 points while Langheld with 23 took game honors.

Mike Carlin and Nagle teamed to break open the game midway through the second half as Wisconsin outscored Fordham 14-4 with Carlin and Nagle getting six points apiece in the spree.

But Langheld, who had 15 points after intermission, kept the Rams alive.

"We had a nice lead in the second half and made some errors," said Coach John Erickson of the Badgers. "We started missing our open men, but I'm happy we won and we're in the finals for the first time in three years. We beat a very excellent team, a strong team."

Erickson started 7-foot-1 Eino Hendrickson at center. The sophomore was held scoreless and got only three rebounds.

Erickson finally sat him down in favor of Jim Johnson. "It was not one of Eino's strongest performances," said Erickson, "but we didn't get a strong performer."

Philadelphia Wins 29th Straight Home Game to Tie Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Baltimore Bullets, under Coach Gene Shue, have won as many games in the past 11 days as they did in the first 51 days of the season.

The Bullets trimmed Detroit 121-113 Friday night for their third straight National Basketball Association victory and fourth in six games since Shue was named coach Dec. 5.

In other games, Philadelphia won its 29th straight home game, tying a league record in beating St. Louis 124-113, and Chicago downed Cincinnati 128-120.

The Bullets didn't have very much success before Shue. While scraping together their first four victories, they lost 21 games. Now they're an almost respectable 4½ games away from getting out of the Eastern Division cellar.

Detroit, playing without Player-Coach Dave DeBusschere who has an infected right foot, closed to within 93-92, but Baltimore's Don Ohl whipped in five straight baskets, increasing the lead to 103-93. The Pistons never got closer than six points the rest of the way.

Philadelphia increased its record to an amazing 28-3 behind a well-balanced scoring attack. Wilt Chamberlain, flipped in 22 points, Wally Jones 19, Lucius Jackson 18 and Chet Walker 17. Lou Hudson scored 27 for St. Louis.

Chicago poured in 41 points in the third quarter, increasing a three-point halftime lead over Cincinnati to 100-84 after three quarters.

THE PHANTOM

ADRIET ON THE FLOATING WRECK-ARE OF THEIR CANOES--AS THE SEA CHURNS AROUND THEM--

GREAT BATTLE FAR DOWN!

TOURDOO "AND WHAT?"

UNDER WATER, A WEIRD BATTLE--AS TOO THIN TO SHAKE THE PHANTOM'S IRON GRIP--

SUDDENLY--THE PHANTOM GRASPS TOO'S AIR NOSE--SHUTTING OFF HIS AIR--

A Miniature Yule Tree Frame Is a Paper Cup

BY CAPPY DICK

Cone-shaped paper cups will serve as the foundations for very tiny Christmas trees to be used to decorate each place at your family's holiday dinner table. The trees are easy to make.

you wind it around and around, starting at the bottom (Figure 3). If you use fringed foil, only the uncut edge should be glued to the cup. Later the fringe should be curled out and up to create the appearance of pine needles.

Tiny disks of colored paper may be attached to the tree (Figure 2) for contrasting decorations.

A little star can be cut from gold or silver paper and affixed to the top of the tree.

Prisoner Now Faces Charge Of Burglary

Charles Lund, 21, Medina, Currently In Jail for Theft

Charles L. Lund, 21, Medina, who earlier this week was sentenced to four months in the Outagamie County jail on two theft counts, Friday afternoon was bound over to the upper branch of County Court for the taking of a plea on a charge of burglarizing Valley Auto Parts, 1820 W. Northland Ave., Aug. 15.

Judge Gustave J. Keller, following a preliminary hearing, ordered that Lund is to enter a plea at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Only three persons, including two of Lund's reported companions in the alleged burglary, testified at Friday's hearing. Lund, who recently was returned from Central State Hospital, is represented by court-appointed counsel.

A 17-year-old Appleton youth who was sent to the State School for Boys at Wales for his part in the Aug. 15 burglary, said he was with Lund and three other youths when they entered the Valley Auto Parts building early in the morning. He said entry was gained after a window was removed.

Lund drove the car to a spot about two blocks from the building, the youth testified. The youths had met in downtown Appleton, the court was told.

The youth then testified that, with Lund driving, they went to a cottage near Hortonville where they spent the night.

A 15-year-old Appleton youth, who also had admitted his part in the burglary, testified as to who obtained what auto parts and other equipment in the burglary. The high school sophomore said some of the items were thrown into the river near the Hortonville cottage.

The only other witness called by Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer was Clyde Schumacher, 236 S. Karlyn St., Kimberly, Valley Auto Parts manager, who discovered the burglary.

Hortonville Woman Fined for Bad Check

Dorothy Much, 34, 110 S. Spruce St., Hortonville, charged with cashing a worthless $15 check Sept. 28 at Treasure Island Food Department, 3305 W. College Ave., Friday afternoon was fined $25 and costs after she made restitution.

Mrs. Much appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 on a charge filed by Treasure Island officials.

Jury Finds Shanak Guilty Of Murder

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — Peter Shanak, accused of slaying a neighbor in a dispute over ownership of a farm tract, was found guilty Friday in Circuit Court of first degree murder.

Judge Gerald J. Boileau postponed sentencing to allow attorneys time to file motions.

Shanak, 63, of Hewitt, was found guilty by a jury of nine men and three women of shooting and beating Patrick Madden, 30, of Hewitt, Aug. 18.

Shanak had pleaded guilty by reason of insanity. Boileau turned down a defense motion to have Shanak committed to a hospital rather than be sentenced to prison.

"I always thought I wasn't guilty," Shanak told the court. "I had seven lawyers, and they didn't do anything for me."

Madden had purchased land from Shanak's father. Shanak argued the land had been given to him by his father who died in 1960.

Widow Advised to Spend Money, Not Just Save It

BY MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management

Maybe what they say is true — that the woman who has the most respect for a man's business sense is a widow.

When it comes her turn to manage money, even though it's only her own modest finances, she often feels inadequate to meet the challenge. It's a lot easier to spend another $25 or $30 a month if you have somebody to argue with about it!

Mrs. V.P.H. of Auburn, Ala., has to decide for herself, now, whether she's making the right move in raising her own rent. She writes:

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a widow living alone, and am wondering if I can afford a more expensive apartment than I now have.

My take-home pay is $240.99 a month, and I get a small insurance check of approximately $67 monthly, making a total income of about $308. The kind of apartment I would like — with two bedrooms — would rent for $70 or $80 a month, not including utilities. I pay $45 a month now for a one-bedroom apartment.

My hospital insurance and car and household insurance amount to around $20 a month. I am seldom charged medical fees, since I am the widow of a physician. However, this does not apply to medicines and drugs. I have $10,000 in savings and loan and I will get Social Security as well as some retirement income.

Do you think I can afford to take on the added expense of a larger apartment?

Mrs. V.P.H., Auburn, Ala.

Dear Mrs. H.:

I'm assuming you want this larger apartment with a second bedroom in order to have friends and relatives visit. And I say go ahead and rent it, even at the cost of another $30 more a month.

Money is for living as well as saving. And if you put aside that difference of $30 in rent, say, for five years, you'd have $1800 in savings not including interest. So which would be the better buy from where you sit — a couple of thousand dollars or five years of companionship? Only you can really answer that one.

As long as you have some savings — $10,000 worth earning interest — and can count on a Social Security check and some retirement funds, I can see some justification for taking the risk.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am one of those "lone older women," aged 73 — the last of my family and not even a cousin left as far as I know. My problem seems to be that I am entitled to no benefits of any kind from anything.

Or am I?

I do not receive Social Security benefits, since I taught piano privately years ago before Social Security was ever heard of. I do not have medicare because I cannot spare the money to pay for it.

I don't want charity. But if I am entitled to any benefits at all — the Age 72 Special Payment of $35 a month — I would apply for them. Am I?

M.L., St. Thomas, Virgin Islands

Dear M.L.:

You're not, and I'm sorry, too. You're not eligible, since a citizen living outside the 50 states cannot collect these benefits. However, you are eligible for medicare — and there's nothing to pay for. This health insurance is free. But you'll have to wait until October, 1967, to sign up for medicare protection since you missed out on the last opportunity to register — which was in July, 1966.

Dear Mary Feeley: I am a 64-year-old widow, getting $90 a month Social Security. I receive about $3,000 a year interest on my savings account. I have no other income.

I have been told that a widow doesn't have to file an income tax report. Right?

Mrs. R.O'K., Brooklyn

Dear Mrs. O'K.:

Wrong. Everyone under 65 years of age, whether single, widowed, or married, who resides in the U.S. and had a gross income of $600 or more during the year must file a federal income tax return.

Your Social Security benefits aren't considered income. But the interest from your savings account is.

Migrants Union Wins Decision In Labor Case

Potato Growers Ordered to Stop Unfair Practices

ALMOND — The James Burns and Sons potato growing firm here has been directed by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB) to stop unfair labor practices against migrant workers.

As result of a Dec. 9 hearing at the Portage County courthouse, arising from the complaint of the United Workers and Jesus Salas, the WERB held the Burns firm engaged in unfair labor practices last fall.

Salas, a resident of Wautoma, filed the complaint with the WERB following a brief strike at the Burns warehouse last fall. The decision was a victory for the migrant workers' union.

Staged March

Salas is the recognized representative of the migrant workers, who staged a dramatic walk on the state capitol at Madison last summer over their plight, demanding improved wages and working conditions.

The WERB finding of fact held that the firm interrogated migrant employees concerning their activity and in doing so "interfered with, restrained and coerced its employees in the exercise of their right to engage in (organizing) activity."

Occurred After Letter

The offenses occurred, according to the WERB, after Oct. 5 when Salas sent a letter on behalf of the United Workers to the company, claiming to represent a majority of shed workers.

In its order, the WERB directed the potato firm to immediately cease and desist from committing unfair labor practices, and to bargain collectively with the migrant worker union.

The firm was also ordered to notify all employees of the WERB finding and post a notice of same at its plant.

Today is Saturday, Dec. 17, the 351st day of 1966. There are 14 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1903, the first successful flight of an airplane carrying a man was made by Orville and Wilbur Wright at Kitty Hawk, N.C.

On this date: In 1843, Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" was published for the first time.

In 1939, the German pocket battleship Graf Spee was scuttled outside the harbor at Montevideo, Uruguay.

In 1945, Upstate New York, including the City of Buffalo, was buried under 50 inches of snow after a four-day blizzard.

In 1948, the Wright Brothers' plane "Kitty Hawk," in which they made the first successful manned flight, was formally enshrined at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington after being 20 years in England.

Ten years ago—in the worst accident on record to date involving a single automobile, 12 of 13 passengers in the car were killed when a train hit the auto at a crossing near Phoenix, Ariz. Nine of those killed were members of a single family.

Five years ago — President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy flew to Bogota, Columbia, the third stop on a weekend trip through Latin-America.

New London Youth, 18, Changes Plea; Admits Disorderly Conduct

Gerold R. Magolski, 18, route 1, New London, who presently is serving a 15-day sentence for driving after his license was suspended, Friday afternoon changed his plea to guilty on a disorderly conduct charge and was fined $25 and costs or another 12 days in jail.

The youth was arrested by Outagamie County police in Shiocton Dec. 12. He pleaded guilty of the traffic charge last Monday.

The disorderly count, to which he had pleaded innocent, was brought after he reportedly pounded on several doors in the Shiocton area.

Jet Flights Mark Anniversary of 1st Wright Brothers Ride

KITTY HAWK, N.C. (AP)—

Aviation paid its homage today to Orville and Wilbur Wright, the Dayton, Ohio, bicycle shop operators who made powered flight's first brief ascent 63 years ago today on North Carolina's windy outer banks.

In a flimsy biplane of thin wood, wired braces and treacherous gas engine, Orville soared 120 feet from the foot of a tall sand dune called Kill Devil Hill. There the air age was born.

Today a group of F102 swept-wing Delta Dagger jets hissing at supersonic speeds flew across the site.

Wreaths were laid at the foot of the 65-foot Wright Brothers Memorial Monument.

Threatening Lives Costs Year in Jail

Leonard Barth, 27, Appleton, Sentenced On Beer Charges

Threats against the lives of an Outagamie County judge, the district attorney and four youths, netted Leonard Barth, 27, 721 N. Morrison St., one year in the county jail Thursday.

Barth, charged following investigation by Appleton police, appeared before County Judge Raymond P. Dohr who sentenced him to 60 days in jail for procuring beer for four minors, 30 days in jail for disorderly conduct, and a year for threatening the four youths. The jail terms are to be served concurrently, with credit allowed for the time Barth has been in jail and at Central State Hospital.

The disorderly conduct charge was brought in connection with threats made against Judge Gustave J. Keller and Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer in the presence of police Aug. 24.

Police said Barth threatened four youths, ages 13, 14 and 15, who reportedly were potential witnesses against him in the procuring charge. The youths reportedly had given Barth money to buy them beer.

The threats to the boys were made Aug. 24 after Barth purchased the beer for them Aug. 12.

The case was assigned to Judge Dohr when Judge Keller disqualified himself, saying he was directly involved in Barth's allegations.

Barth's court-appointed attorney attempted to have the threat to injure charge dismissed Thursday but was unsuccessful. Barth was found guilty on all three counts.

Prior to sentencing, statements were heard from two Appleton detectives and Barth's mother. Barth is married.

Three grants totaling $123,241 have been awarded to Lawrence University to support specialized summer programs on the campus, Dr. Curtis W. Tarr, university president, has announced.

The grants for renewals of the National Science Foundation Summer Institute in Mathematics and of the NDEA Institute for Advanced Study in English, both for secondary school teachers, and for a new Science Training Program for high school students.

The NSF has contributed $25,567 for the science program and $40,630 for the mathematics institute. The English institute is sponsored by a grant of $57,044 from the U.S. Office of Education under the National Defense Education Act.

For High School Juniors
Dr. Michael J. LaMarca, assistant professor of biology, will direct the new science program, which will enroll 50 high school juniors for an eight-week session from June 19 to Aug. 11. Purpose of the summer course will be to provide high ability, science-oriented students with a stimulating educational experience supplementing their regular work and to encourage them to seek careers in science.

The program will include formal instruction and laboratory work in vertebrate morphology, chemistry, geology and physics, a series of seminars on the interdisciplinary nature of the sciences and frequent individual conferences. Participants will choose two of the four courses offered.

Lawrence faculty teaching in the program will include Dr. LaMarca; Dr. Ronald W. Tank, assistant professor of geology; Dr. David M. Cook, assistant professor of physics; and Dr. Allen C. Dr. William M. Sanders, associate professor of mathematics, will again direct the eight-week mathematics institute for high school teachers June 19 to Aug. 11. The program is designed to improve the training of experienced teachers, who have not completed all the courses recommended for senior high school by the committee for the undergraduate program in mathematics of the Mathematical Association of America.

Dr. Andrew C. Berry, who is Henry Colman professor of mathematics at Lawrence, will give courses in matrix algebra and in probability and statistics, while Dr. Sanders will teach topics in geometry. Thirty participants will be selected for the institute.

NDEA Institute

'Committee for '68' Disowned

State, County Democrats In Potential Tug-of-War

BY CLIFF MILLER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — A tug-of-war pitting local interests against the state organization looms within the Democratic Party, with roots in the Winnebago County party.

The state party's administrative committee has voted to put all Winnebago County Democrats and others in the Sixth and possibly the Eighth Congressional Districts on notice that a group known as the "Committee for '68" has been disowned by the state organization.

A small turnout of members at a county party meeting and election of officers here Thursday night was told by the new chairman that the new group has decided "to wait and see if the state party has plausible solutions" to offer as an alternative to the Committee for '68 and its objectives.

Race Supporters
Claude Marquardt, elected county chairman for the coming year without opposition, explained that the committee, apparently an outgrowth of the campaign machinery of defeated Rep. John A. Race, is designed to recruit candidates at the county and legislative levels and raise funds between now and the 1968 elections.

A key feature of the organization would be the sale of memberships at $25 each.

The state party objects both to early recruiting of candidates and the fund-raising plan, which a state party spokesman in Madison said this morning would consist of "raiding" sources of funds for the state organization.

The candidate recruitment, said the spokesman, is considered directly in conflict with Democratic Party principles that "avowedly prohibit endorsement of candidates outside of state primary election machinery."

Send Letters
The state party spokesman said the administrative committee voted last Saturday to send letters disavowing any connection with the Committee for '68 to all party members in the Sixth District. State officers also say they have learned a similar organization may be forming in the Eighth District.

Marquardt, while arguing favorably for the new group's aims, admitted it contains risks, since it "sidesteps" the existing fund-raising and candidate recruiting machinery of the state and regular local organizations. However, he said he felt it would strengthen the party at the county level since it would build a reserve of funds well in advance of elections, in turn demonstrating to potential candidates that they could expect support. He cited similar practices he said are common in the Republican Party.

Marquardt also promised the county party's support for the state organization in making up the financial deficit that remains after the November election campaigns.

The total comes to some $50,000, with more than half of it arising from assumption of the debts of individual candidates, including the unsuccessful candidate for governor, Lt. Gov. Patrick Lucey.

Winnebago County Democrats have been asked to raise $600 as their share of the state deficit. A dinner dance honoring Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette is being arranged for Jan. 24, with tickets priced at $25 each as part of the recovery drive.

Marquardt also outlined plans for regaining former members of the county organization, then pushing ahead to find new members. The membership search was termed the first goal of the local organization, with a goal of regaining 90 per cent of lapsed memberships since 1964 by mid-January. He said about 70 per cent have already rejoined.

Appleton Man Gets 2 Years In Reformatory

Robert C. Wohlrobe Admits Burglaries, Thefts in 4 Counties

Commenting that "this wave of burglaries by a number of you fellows cannot be allowed to continue," Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller Friday afternoon sentenced Robert C. Wohlrobe, 21, 1219 N. Lawe St., to two years in the state reformatory on 13 counts of burglary and two theft charges stemming from a four-county area.

Wohlrobe, charged following investigation by Appleton and Outagamie County authorities, earlier this month pleaded guilty of burglarizing the Saddle Shop at Dale, Andrews Oil Co., Kaukauna, and the South Side Service Station, 1623 S. Oneida St., during August and September.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered, and Friday Wohlrobe pleaded guilty of 12 additional charges brought by Winnebago, Manitowoc and Waupaca Counties. The Appleton man, through his court-appointed attorney, had asked for consolidation.

One in Winnebago

The lone Winnebago County burglary was at the American Legion Club, 1102 S. Harrison St., Neenah, on Aug. 13.

All of the Manitowoc County burglaries occurred Aug. 3. Included were those at the Hillside Service Station in the Town of Cato, the Texaco Service Station at Reedsville, and Lehman Implement Co., Grahl Service Station and the Whitelaw Cooperative, all in Whitelaw.

The Waupaca County charges involved burglaries Aug. 5 at the Weyauwega Union Cooperative, Real Estate Builders, Inc., Friendly Bar, and the Coast-to-Coast Store, all in Weyauwega.

The final two charges against Wohlrobe concerned the theft of 15 cartons of cigarettes and $245 in cash from the Friendly Tavern, Aug. 5, and the theft of $601 in cash from the Coast-to-Coast Store in Weyauwega Aug. 5.

Driver for Schroeder

Wohlrobe's attorney contended that the Appleton man served mainly as driver and lookout for Warren (Pepper) Schroeder, 19, of Appleton, who last month was sentenced to 10 years in the state prison on 43 counts of burglary and a charge of attempted armed burglary. The attorney said Wohlrobe had been drinking heavily before each incident and added that the man was "not a hard core member of the gang involved in the rash of recent burglaries."

The attorney asked for probation. However, Judge Keller replied, "If I granted you (Wohlrobe) probation, I would have to go into my chambers and resign as judge. I do not intend to do that."

The judge told the Appleton man, "If you got the maximum sentence and the terms were to run consecutively, you'd be in prison the rest of your life."

Each of the 15 counts constituted felonies. Judge Keller sentenced Wohlrobe to two years on the first count (the burglary at Dale) and two years on each of the succeeding counts, with the sentences to be served concurrently.

Board for Resources Gets Okay

Kellett Task Force Votes To Merge Two '68 Programs

MADISON (AP)—A proposed sources board to oversee the merger of Wisconsin's conservation and water pollution control programs in 1968 won acceptance Friday by a task force trying to modernize state government.

The Kellett task force set up a one-year transition plan and decided the two areas should be combined in a new department of natural resources July 1, 1968.

Retired Menasha industrialist William R. Kellett, the task force chairman, called the merger plan "a great step forward" and voiced hope the committee could wrap up its blueprint for streamlining state government later today.

The plan is to be offered to the 1967 Legislature after public hearings next month. Other major mergers involved new departments of social services, transportation and commerce.

The conservation combination was accepted without vote but without objection. The merger would replace the present conservation commission and reorganization board with a new nine-man natural resources board.

Valley Burglary Spree Nets 6-Year Sentence

Terry Kapp, 21, Appleton, Admits Crimes In Outagamie, Calumet, Waupaca Counties

Nineteen burglaries in three counties brought a six-year state reformatory term Friday afternoon for a 21-year-old Appleton man whom the court was told could have been charged with several more offenses.

Outagamie County Judge Keller imposed the three consecutive 2-year sentences on Terry R. Kapp, 21, 1912 W. Summer St. In sentencing the Appleton man, Judge Keller again called attention to the recent burglary spree in the Fox River Valley, saying, "Burglary is one of our more serious crimes and we in this area of the state have had more than our share."

Kapp, who earlier had pleaded guilty of the 19 counts and who was awaiting a pre-sentence investigation, was charged with burglaries from July through October in Outagamie, Calumet and Winnebago Counties.

9 in Appleton

There were nine Appleton burglaries, including those at

Hit Beverage Store

Kapp burglarized Stein's South Side Beverages, 2518 S. Oneida St., three times during September and October.

Winnebago County burglaries included those at Transport Oil Co., Baer's Beverages, DX Sunray Oil Co., and Chef's Barbecue House, all in the Town of Menasha.

Judge Keller sentenced Kapp to two years each on burglaries at Lawrence University, Howie's Fiesta and the American Legion Clubhouse, and ordered that two year counts on all of the other charges be served concurrently.

Kapp also was sentenced to six months in the Outagamie County Jail on his plea of guilty to a misdemeanor theft at the Riverview Country Club in Appleton. That term also is to be served at the same time as the three two-year sentences.

Authorities told the court Friday that Kapp could have been formally charged with several more incidents, including burglaries, attempted burglaries, vandalism to cars in 1962, and with the tipping of headstones on one occasion at Riverside Cemetery.

Held to a mere two points

prior to the intermission, Steinke netted 14 of his 16-point game total in the final two segments and snared nine rebounds in the same span in paving the way to the Truckers' victory.

Despite Steinke's efforts, Shawano managed to stay close and, with 3:42 left in the game, was still in contention on the short end of 51-47 count.

Moments later, Steinke put the decision on ice, canning his 10th point of the closing period and upping the Clintonville margin to 55-47.

Valders Drops Chilton With 84-54 Decision

CHILTON — Shuffling the score easy lay-ups and keep lineup did not provide the answer Friday as Chilton suffered its third straight home loss in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference dropping a 84-54 decision to Valders.

The win was Valders' first in four loop starts and left both teams in the circuit cellar with identical 1-3 marks.

Chilton Coach Jerry Derby started two juniors, 6-2 Tom Lintner and 6-3 Paul Grittner in place of senior Don McHugh and junior Nick Schneider in an effort to get more rebounding strength, but the added height didn't help the Tigers enough.

Both teams started off slowly, with Chilton holding a 13-11 first quarter advantage. From then on Valders took control, as it used an effective fast break to

Villages to Discuss Law Enforcement

Amherst President Heads Group From Portage Studying Problem

AMHERST — Village President Charles Lepak will head a committee of officials from six Portage County communities to consult with county officials on law enforcement problems.

The committee stems from a village board meeting Tuesday evening attended by representatives from Almond, Rosholt, Junction City, Amherst Junction and Nelsonville and Assemblyman-Elect Leonard Groshek.

Since the office of justice of the peace has been dissolved local law enforcement officials have not been followed through by prosecution.

Village officials say they feel there is a lack of cooperation from county law enforcement officials in handling traffic cases and village ordinances.

An existing law permits hiring a municipal judge but the small budgets of the villages are not adequate to provide the salary of an experienced man for this service.

Lepak and his committee will consult with the district attorney on a solution to the problem.

SEYMOUR — The Seymour Indians notched their first victory of the season in five starts by whipping Oconto, 62-48, in a Northeastern Wisconsin Conference game here Friday night.

Gene Danforth, of Seymour was the contest's high scorer with 20 points, and Jerry Ciesielczyk contributed 13. Tom Olson bossed the losers with 19.

K-K Sports Arena Work Started to Improve Traffic

KAUKAUNA — A major improvement is underway at the KK Sports Arena, designed to help solve the traffic problems which occurs each summer on County Trunk KK and State Highway 55.

Joseph Van Daalwyk and Clarence DeLeeuw, owners, are putting in a new, wide driveway designed to hold 350 cars. The cars will be able to enter the arena grounds 10 abreast thus keeping them off the road and speeding the flow of traffic.

Four caterpillars and heavy earth-moving machinery are being used to cut down hills, fill valleys and provide a smooth incline to the main ticket booth from where patrons can enter the parking areas.

In previous years traffic was backed up nearly a mile onto State Highway 55 prior to races, but the widened driveway is expected to solve much of the problem. Owners feel the improvement will provide increased safety to both customers and motorists who may be traveling the roads near race times.

3 Traffic Counts Net 240 Days

Charge Carries $200 Fine or Additional Three Month Term

Earl C. Spreeman, 40, route 3, taken into custody in Shawano County after a bench warrant was issued by Outagamie County authorities, was sentenced Thursday to 240 days in jail and was fined $200 and costs or an additional 90 days in jail on three traffic charges.

Spreeman, who was to have stood trial Dec. 5, was found guilty in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and two counts of driving after his license was revoked.

The charges were brought by Outagamie County traffic police who arrested Spreeman Aug. 19 in the Village of Black Creek for operating after revocation and driving under the influence. The second operating after revocation charge was brought following Spreeman's arrest Oct. 13 in the Town of Freedom.

Spreeman was sentenced by Judge Gustave J. Keller.

New Hearing Set in Auto Fatality Case

NEENAH — The preliminary hearing in juvenile court for the driver of the car which crashed into a tree in a residential sector of Neenah last Sept. 3, resulting in the death of one youth and injuring nine other teenagers, was adjourned Thursday afternoon to Feb. 16.

The delay was requested by the driver's attorney and Dist. Atty. Thomas Fink to allow time to receive a doctor's report and reports from school officials.

Juvenile Court Judge James Sarres set the date of the new hearing in Neenah for 2 p.m. on Feb. 16.

Negligent The youth, whose name cannot be published under the state juvenile code, was found negligent by a six-man jury Dec. 3. Judge Sarres could still waive the 17-year-old to adult court and if he was found guilty, he could face a sentence of up to one year in the county jail or a fine of $1,000 or both.

The charge, brought about by the coroner's jury, states the youth caused the death of another human being by a high degree of negligence in the use of a vehicle.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Oak and Washington streets around midnight on Sept. 3.

John Ottman, 18, son of Mrs. Albin Jury, 512 Fifth St., died at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital about two hours after the crash.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Gals:
Here's one for the boudoir.
How about that fancy name?
You know those luscious, adorable, quilted, shortie nylon housecoats we all buy? Well, when they get to where we can call them raggedy-andy... don't throw them away!
Heloise
Usually, the bottom shows the most wear.
Why don't you try cutting them off just a little bit below the waist, and use them as bed jackets?
Because they have been washed so many times, and have that beautiful padding in them, I find mine absolutely fabulous for that purpose.
Besides, on cool mornings, I can wear one as a cleaning jacket with my slacks or pedal pushers.
Quite comfy, I say.

Dear Heloise:
I live alone, I work, and I smoke.
To eliminate danger of fire, I take the ashtray containing the stubs of all the cigarettes I smoke each morning, and put it in the kitchen sink before leaving for work.

Mrs. Betty Baker
Dear Heloise:
I wrote to a large manufacturing firm asking how to remove plaster which accidentally fell on the floor and hardened before we noticed it.
They wrote me a very nice letter, telling me how to remove it... using their product.
But the punch line is that they said if their product didn't work, to use a 50-50 solution of vinegar and water! So — long live our Heloise!

People who drive by and see Christmas lights in our window all year long may think we're a bit odd — but what care we? ? ?

Dear Heloise:
I have always been annoyed by paper measuring tapes breaking, and the cloth ones stretching.
For some time I've been using a carpenter's folding rule for everything except around-the-body measuring.
I find a folding wooden rule much more satisfactory than a cloth or paper one.

Dear Heloise:
We have a philodendron plant growing on a tall, bark-covered pole in a planter in our living room.
Last year during the holidays, we decided to buy two strings of tiny, tiny lights to decorate the plant.
The effect was so beautiful that we didn't want to take the lights off after Christmas!
We left them on, and within a few weeks realized how fast the philodendron was growing! There was just enough heat

Walt Disney

Walt Disney's death takes from the stage of entertainment one of the field's most capable and successful innovators. Disney's little mouse and his irritable duck were born and thrived during American wars, depression and prosperity but they never changed character nor lost their nearly universal appeal. Disney not only created characters and ways of presenting them through cartoons; he ably supervised the filming of dozens of favorite children's stories from The Wizard of Oz to Tomorrow and Mary Poppins. His unique Disneyland is a wonderland for children and unites American history and pure enjoyment. While much of modern entertainment is often stark, brutal and depressing, Disney's thrived on fantasy and romance. Perhaps it sometimes was a one-sided view of life but it succeeded so tremendously because it appealed to the eternal child in most of us. We are lucky that our children and other future generations will not lose touch with all that Disney created and interpreted.

The Promotion of Frank Keuler

Congratulations and best wishes are in order to Frank Keuler, a City of Appleton, civil engineer who moved up the ranks over the past seven years to become head of the Department of Public Works — the largest single departmental operation in municipal government. Keuler, 39, held the position of city engineer until his latest appointment to succeed Robert W. Bues, who resigned the post last summer. Those who know Frank Keuler and have observed his work can say without fear of contradiction that he was an excellent choice for the public works job. He has proven ability and has been active in the community far beyond the call of duty. Keuler has become the head of a large department which has demonstrated teamwork in the past and must continue to do so even more in the future as Appleton embarks on larger and larger public works programs. An example of this teamwork is the excellent performance by Donald Bengs, assistant public works director, who on two occasions during the past five years has taken over the top spot in the department when vacancies have occurred. Under Bengs there has been no break in continuity. Bengs, too, is to be commended for the ability he has shown in keeping programs moving, along with demonstrating conscientious concern for the well-being of Appleton and its citizens. Communities badly need dedicated men like Keuler and Bengs, both high caliber public servants.

Christmas Seals Do a Job

Today tuberculosis can be beaten — fewer die from it every year. Yet 250,000 Americans have active TB, with more than 50,000 new cases yearly, 600 in Wisconsin alone. This disease kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined. The irony is that all these people could live by diagnosing their TB early and having it treated correctly. Programs to combat TB are offered in Outagamie County and during the past year, more than 5,500 people took advantage of the free X-ray facilities; free skin tests are administered to children in grades 1, 4 and 9 each year; letters are sent to the people who have had positive skin tests; research is continuously going on. Money is needed to administer these programs. Much of the money comes from the Christmas seals sent out by the TB associations. As of Dec. 9, Outagamie County had collected 81.5 per cent of the $12,000 goal. This is not bad, especially if compared to many other counties in the state, but it is less than the 100 per cent needed. About 23,000 letters and seals were sent to people in the county. If all of them would be returned, Wisconsin would stand that much closer to the goal of completely wiping out the dreaded disease.

'Death of a President'

There is once again something disturbing in the relations of Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy and those who would write about her late husband. Mrs. Kennedy has filed a complaint asking for a temporary injunction to halt the publication of a book, Death of a President, by William Manchester and its serialization beginning in January in Look magazine. She charges that passages violate "accepted standards of propriety and good faith ... and the dignity and privacy which my children and I have striven with difficulty to retain." Mrs. Kennedy also charges that the manuscript has "inaccurate and unfair references to other individuals, in contrast with its generous references to all members of the Kennedy family." Reportedly Mrs. Kennedy and relatives of the late president virtually cast a mantle of approval about Author Manchester because they liked an earlier biography he had written. Reportedly also they interfered with the plans of another author, Jim Bishop, who planned a similar book. He charged that they dammed up sources of information so that he discarded his plans. Such interference itself was considerably unwise. It is ironic that the approved author apparently did not merely follow the dictates of the family either. Certainly there is sympathy for Mrs. Kennedy and her children as well as for other members of the family. But a President also belongs to the people of the nation. Mrs. Kennedy's major opposition to Manchester's book apparently concern her own observations made to him early in 1964. Members of a president's family cannot escape some amount of publicity and this is especially true in the case of President Kennedy, the glamour which surrounded her life and the tragedy of his death. And while we have no criticism of Mrs. Kennedy's private life, it does not always appear to be conducted especially to avoid publicity. The controversy will have one sure result unless publication is actually halted. It will mean book sales which no advertising campaign could have produced.

Looking Backward

'Hot Blast Comes From Shawano!'

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 22, 1866.
Up in Shawano County there is an unfortunate little paper except the "Shawano Journal." It is edited just as it happens — sometimes by a pill pedlar, anon by a Methodist preacher, now and then by a young printer, at stated intervals by Hon. D. H. Pulcifer, the lively assemblyman from that region, and a good share of the time it edits itself. In a recent issue we find this squib:
"Why anything mean enough to merit the censure of the Crescent couldn't find a resting place within 10 miles of the surface of a certain brimstone lake we read about, and into which we have dipped a few times than even be guilty of an act that would draw a word of praise from the Crescent."
The Journal needn't worry. It's a long time since any one could find anything in its columns for either praise or censure. It appears to be editorially too lazy to entitle it to any claims of heaven and too stupid to find the broad road that leadeth to destruction.

Proxmire Would Set Up Another U. S. Bureau

Editor, Post-Crescent:
We need another bureau in Washington with its host of tax eating bureaucrats about as much as we need another brand of beer. Our Senator William Proxmire stated on T.V. and news media that he will introduce a bill in the next congress which will require charges made for time payments on all such purchases, made known to the buyer. Next to our federal income tax the largest tax is for education. Anyone with grade school arithmetic should be able to figure out the cost for this convenience, without any help from our smiling Senator. So Senator, why do we need another army of bureaucrats to harass our businessmen? This will only lead to more cost of doing business and again give a boost to the cost of living. I am sure there is much more useful work that the Senator can do for us.

SAIGON (AP) — Almost everybody, with the exception of the U.S. commanders who would send them there, says U.S. troops will be moving soon in force into South Vietnam's Mekong Delta. The commanders say contingency plans have been made for such a move, but no decision has been reached. Despite this, it is assumed here that the Americans soon will find themselves in the Delta Land, where most of South Vietnam's people live. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky was the latest to get on the march-to-the-delta bandwagon, telling newsmen that American forces will start moving in before the end of the year. He said the dispatch of first U.S. elements there in the next two or three weeks will be part of a "progressive buildup."

There are two factors that make the delta different for American soldiers: the land itself, and the number of people.

SWAMPS AND MUD

The land is rice paddy, jungled hedgerows, rivers, canals, swamps and mud. The Viet Cong have lived there for years and are as adaptable to the terrain as the muddy brown waters that cross and recross the foot of Vietnam.

Living, working and fighting will be difficult for American troops in this terrain. Heavy equipment will be restricted to the few roads. Men piling out of helicopters in assault landings will more often than not find themselves plunging into water and mud. Base camps and other installations will have to be built in areas where only the Vietnamese peasant in his sampan is at home.

Then there are the people of the delta, an estimated seven million of them living along the waterways, tilling the muddy soil and reaping the crops of the country's food basket. The sheer number of people will affect the war there.

U.S. troops rely heavily on air strikes and artillery barrages in their operations against the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in other areas of the country. Immense firepower is laid down in almost every engagement. At times, civilians are killed. In the delta, the threat of such casualties increases.

U.S. commanders are concerned about this possibility. They know, too, there is a danger that the people of the delta may resent any large influx of foreign troops. Since the American military effort began here, there have been U.S. advisors with Vietnamese units in the delta. Then American helicopter companies and other air personnel were added. Early this fall, one battalion of troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division moved to the northern edge of the delta, just south of Saigon. The question of the introduction of large numbers of U.S. ground troops in the delta long has been debated. There have been arguments that it was the one area, the southernmost IV Corps, that should be left to the Vietnamese. This line of reasoning was that it was an important psychological factor because it was the one region in which the Vietnamese were fighting their war on their own. IT'S STALEMATE But the war in the delta became at best a stalemate. The Viet Cong are still strong and still are able to use the area as a key center to recruit troops and obtain food and other necessities. Because of this, the decision apparently was made to move in American troops. There have been reports that U.S. military leaders are considering a sea-based campaign that would seek to wrest control of the delta waterways from the Viet Cong. This reportedly envisages the use of Navy barracks ships from which American infantrymen would carry out assault operations. There also is talk of plans for increased use of air, and experiments are being made with hovercraft-type machines. Navy patrol boats already are operating in some areas of the delta, and officers claim some success in restricting the movement of the Viet Cong. Whatever the plans and strategy call for, American soldiers going into the delta can be sure it will mean slogging through mud in search of an enemy as wily as he is on dry land.

Wisconsin Report

State Budget Like an Iceberg; Only Part Appears on Surface

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Like an iceberg, a state of Wisconsin budget is not easily measured from a surface view. There is much below and behind, a fact that the statehouse will remember as it assesses the declared objective of the new Republican majority leadership in the legislature to limit expenditures in the new "budget" to one billion dollars. That would be a sizable achievement, taken literally, because the total of general fund spending requests already submitted to Gov. Knowles who is now working up his own budget recommendations, is nearly $200 million more than that. But the "budget" is not really a budget, in the sense that most persons are likely to take it. It is more accurately called a general appropriation bill. The Wisconsin appropriation bill is more truly a budget than those of many other states, perhaps. But it does not measure the actual extent of state spending. No legislature in recent times has been able to resist the inclination for miscellaneous spending acts that push up the total far above the publicized the remembered aggregate. The budget comes close to representing the executive spending recommendations and the administration's wishes. But the legislature always has spending ideas of its own, or generated during a session through pressures or influences that the executive was able to ignore or deny. In the current biennium, for example, the extra-budgetary cash appropriations amounted to more than $30 millions.

MORE STATE DEBT

A far more important extra-budgetary expenditure is the steadily rising state debt. The budget commitment for debt is limited to the comparatively modest amounts of equity money that the state is required to provide to continue its building corporation method of long-term bonding. Those direct appropriations are comparatively small, and to that extent the "budget" total headlined in the press and disputed in the political forums becomes even more deceptive. For the multi-million dollars of borrowed money each biennium represent expenditures as truly as do the appropriations from tax receipts. The unimportant distinction is that they represent tax levying needs that are deferred and bequeathed to other governors and other legislators in the distant future.

The debt factor in state finance is one of the least understood in state politics, even among legislators. But its dimensions are serious. Recently various state institutions and departments filed building fund requests for more than $260 million.

CUTTING QUIETLY DONE

Such proposals are always reduced. Indeed, it is difficult for the onlooker to avoid the conclusion that they are calculated on the high side by their authors in the realization that they will be reduced. The current figure may be refined to about $150 millions for the next two years, as a reasonable guess, and bring the total of such corporate debt to a figure approaching half a billion dollars. Parenthetically, there is perhaps a sign of the peculiar public vocabulary of the times in the fact that Wisconsin continues to be listed officially as a debt free state.

Thus even if it is assumed that the more cautious men now in control of the legislature make good their intention to hold down the "budget" to a billion dollars, it seems likely that the true general fund spending of the term will reach a couple of hundred millions above that figure, nevertheless. The desired "balance" between general fund spending and general fund revenues, if found, will be possible only by postponing the tax settlement to a future year.

Potomac Fever — by Jack Wilson

The White House says President Johnson didn't drive 80 miles an hour to church, only 40. It's just that everything's twice as big in Texas.

You have to give him credit for one thing—even if he did go 80 miles an hour, the denial came twice as fast.

Reporters say they lost the President when he speeded up in a thick fog. Silly fellows—they didn't look anywhere except on the road.

Now government safety officials say all drivers should pass a test every four years—and no fair getting Secret Service to take it for you.

Ronald Reagan says we should scare the Viet Cong by threatening to use atom bombs. And if it works there, we'll try it in Berkeley.

Governor Romney says he may go to the Far East to get the facts about the war. It's nice over there—on a clear day you can see the White House.

New Mexico opens its new capitol, which is circular. It's a governor's dream—nobody can crowd you into a corner.

NASA will send up a biology satellite full of insects. Remember when the big worry was how to get the bugs out of those things?

The U.S. and U.S.S.R. agree to ban H-bombs in outer space. What—and leave the whole earth defenseless against flying saucers?

Sen. Benson Clarifies Remark About Veterans

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Either through a typographical error or a misunderstanding by a reporter, my statement regarding veterans was inaccurately reported in your newspaper of December 8. As a former newspaper man, I can understand how these things occur. The statement which was made occurred during a meeting of the State's Reorganization Commission, "The Kellett Commission," during a discussion regarding the G.A.R. Home at King being placed under the reorganization plan, into a newly created department of social services. At that time I stated, as an aside, that "we are getting to the point where everybody is a veteran, and I don't think that they want to be treated as super colossal citizens."

The second half of the aside, which was never printed, was "veterans are people and they want to be treated like people, nothing more, nothing less." Having served in World War II and Korea, and with more than 18 years of active and reserve military time to my credit, I'd be the last guy in the world to say anything derogatory about my fellow G.I.s.

And a Cedar Tree In an Elm Tree ...
INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (AP) — Tree experts are blaming a bird because a tree is growing in a tree here. A cedar sapling about two feet tall has sprouted in dirt collected in a fork of limbs on a large elm tree. The cedar's base is about six feet off the ground. Young Readers Receive Doctor's Information

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. When people wake up, they Dear Dr. Molner: I am 11 and full of black and blues, and this is ugly for a girl. At the slightest bump I get deep purple bruises. Is there a reason for this? — S.R.V.

Dr. Molner

Of course there's a reason. The question is which reason. A bruise is bleeding underneath the skin — we have a vast network of capillaries, of very tiny blood vessels. A bump hard enough to break some of them lets a little blood leak from them, and that is the black and blue mark.

Sometimes a person has unusually fragile capillaries, gets a black and blue spot from a bump that wouldn't bother someone else.

Or the blood may not have enough particles called platelets, which are important in causing it to clot when a vessel is broken. Therefore such a person bleeds longer and the black and blue spot is bigger. He or she will also bleed more from a cut. A special study of the blood is necessary to see if this is the situation.

Calcium is also essential in healing these small breaks (or big ones, of course). Milk has a lot of calcium, and most youngsters drink plenty of it. Among older folks, bruising is excessive sometimes because they don't get enough calcium.

Finally, Vitamin C (from tomato juice or orange or other citrus fruits) has a good deal to do with the strength of the capillaries, so if you aren't getting enough of it, you will be better off by drinking some juice every day.

Your parents should have your bruising checked by the doctor; it may not be serious and if the exact cause can be diagnosed, there is excellent chance of correcting it.

Dear Dr. Molner I am a girl of 11. My mother makes me go to bed at 9 p.m. and then complains when I wake up at 7:15 in the morning. She says that is too early. I have tried to reason with her but she just says, "I know what's best." Don't you think she's wrong? — S.M.

I don't like to say that mother is wrong. Growing girls need sleep, and I'm not at all pleased with the way some youngsters are allowed to stay up much too late.

However, 10 hours (from 9 p.m. to 7 a.m.) is a reasonable amount for a girl of your age, and I do wish your mother would agree that so long as you go to bed at a reasonable time, you should be allowed to get up when you've had your sleep.

Dear Dr. Molner: I acquired the strange and terrible habit of pulling my eyelashes out by the roots. I have finally licked the habit but my eyes now look flimsy and very weird. Will they ever grow back? — Miss K.

Yes, they should grow back, but it will take some time. Lashes grow very slowly.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 12 and have a pot belly. When I am older will this still be there? I am five feet two — S.T.

It's not unusual for kids your age to be a bit "potty" and then thin out as you go into a growing spurt, but I can't say whether that will happen in your case because I don't know how much you weigh or whether you get plenty of exercise.

If you are overweight, then you'll probably keep that pot, unless you start gradually getting your weight under control. Fat youngsters don't automatically turn into slim people. They stay fat — unless they start exercising more and eat less.

Businessman Couldn't Lift Safe, Thief Could

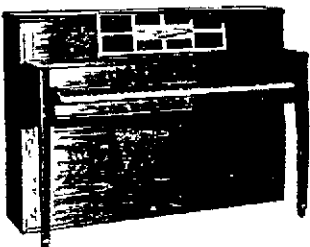

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Businessman Phil Balyeat bought an old empty safe in a building marked for demolition.

Balyeat and two helpers managed to get the safe, which weighed about 850 pounds, out to the sidewalk — but they couldn't lift it aboard a truck. They went for help.

When they came back, the safe had disappeared.

Bach Cantata, Carols To Highlight Christmas Vespers at Neenah

Handbell Carillonners, Two Choirs Also
To Perform at Neenah Presbyterian Church

Performances of the cantata "For Us a Child is Born" (Uns ist ein kind geboren), by J. S. Bach, and the "Fantasia on Christmas Carols", by Ralph Vaughan Williams, will highlight a Christmas Vespers service at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at First Presbyterian Church, Neenah. Three of the church's five choirs — the Carillon Choir (handbells), the Crusader Choir (boys) and the Chancel Choir (adults) — will participate. Director of the bell choir is Mrs. Lorren Schroeder, Neenah. Choirmaster-organist Don L. Vorpahl, Appleton, leads the vocal groups. Soloists in the Bach cantata will be bass-baritone John Koopman, Appleton, soprano Sandra Meek Young, Menasha, and mezzo-soprano Barbara McCutcheon, Neenah.

Koopman also will sing the extended baritone solo with mixed choir based on traditional carols from Herefordshire, Somerset and Sussex, England. Koopman was a last moment replacement for baritone Dale Duesing, who originally was slated for the two roles. A 20-minute prelude is planned with organ selections by Le Begue, Mulet and Langlais played by Vorpahl, and bell music from Wales, France and Flanders performed by the Carillon Choir. A candlelighting ritual, "The Bringing of the Light," immediately precedes the traditional service.

Two Other Carols
Carols of Latin and American origin — "The Snow Lay on the Ground" and "A Cradle Song"

— will be sung during the service by the Crusader Choir. The three soloists are veterans of church music in this area. Koopman, assistant professor of music at Lawrence University, is choirmaster of the First Methodist Church, Appleton. Chancel Choir Member Mrs. Young, a member of the Chancel Choir, is a voice student of Koopman, and has made numerous church solo appearances here, including one in Handel's "Messiah" with the Presbyterian choir last season. Mrs. McCutcheon also sings in the Chancel Choir. She is a former University of Wisconsin graduate student in voice, and a pupil of Cristine Gunlaugson and Dale Gilbert. She sang in Madison with the University Choir, Women's and a Cappella Choruses and the Presbyterian House Oratorio Choir.

LBJ Pays Visit to Ike In Hospital

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has returned to his Texas ranch for the Christmas holidays. The President, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, flew here Friday night. Mrs. Johnson is scheduled to appear at a Christmas bake sale at Johnson City today. She planned to contribute bread and preserves made at the LBJ ranch. Earlier Friday, Johnson visited former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, recuperating from a gallbladder operation at Walter Reed Army Hospital. Johnson said he and Eisenhower conferred about "one or two things I didn't know what I was going to do about . . . I discussed them with him and now I know what I'm going to do." He did not elaborate. "I think he's on the rapid road to recovery," Johnson said of Eisenhower, adding that the five-star general was in good spirits, alert and very interested in "what is happening in the affairs I deal with."

Lawrence 'Messiah' Concert on WHA
The Lawrence University concert of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented on WHA and the Wisconsin State Broadcasting Service at 2 p.m. Sunday. The Chilton station WHKW broadcasts at 89.3 megacycles.

Soloists in the Christmas vespers service at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at Neenah's First Presbyterian Church are mezzo-soprano Barbara McCutcheon, Neenah, soprano Sandra Meek Young, Menasha, and bass-baritone John Koopman, Appleton, assistant professor of music at Lawrence University.

'Tis the Season for Gleason

BY TV SCOUT
6:30-7:30 — Channels 2-7-12 — If you find "The Honeymooners" on The Jackie Gleason Show irresistible, you are going to especially enjoy this session. The Kramdens and Nortons have ended their world tour and are back in Brooklyn just in time for Christmas. Ralph thinks Alice is knitting lil' things (actually she has a part-time job) and he bursts into song about becoming a father. He also takes a job as a sidewalk Santa, only to be arrested as a bookie for taking bets on horses. There are plenty of enticing production numbers, with original music and lyrics. But perhaps the best is when Gleason and Art Carney sing about the inscrutable weaker sex with "Don't Try to Figure Her Out."

7:30-8 — Channels 4-5 — Lorne Greene, the big papa of the Ponderosa, hangs up his saddle long enough to host a holiday sing-a-long. The star of Bonanza in Christmas With Lorne Greene is found at "home" surrounded by the 45-voice UNICEF Children's Choir. After the youngsters sing "Joy to the World," their host solos warmly with "The Christmas Song." Later on, thanks to some fancy camera tricks and some Charles Dickens-type costumes, the whole crowd is transported back to the 19th century to sing carols and to let Greene render "One Solitary Life."

6:30-7:30 — Channels 4-5 — Be sure to let the children watch Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol, a musical cartoon version of the Dickens classic — and you might as well watch it, too. Jule Styne and Bob Merrill have written six tuneful songs ("Winter Was Warm" and "When You're Along" are particularly good) and the essence of Dickens story is captured better here than in many past versions.

6:30-7:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — Shane begins a two-parter, "The Great Invasion," which is somewhat more substantial than past efforts. Again our hero (David Carradine) is forced to take up his guns and he is painfully reminded of his past — one in which he was a hired gun as well as a lover. Cheyenne, sprawling and temperamental, provides the backdrop. And there is an earnest, intelligent performance by Bradford Dillman as an ex-Confederate major who heads a gang to clear out homesteaders as well as Shane's old foe, Ryker.

8-9 — Channels 2-7-12, 10-11:00 — Channel 7 — There's a strong performance by Albert Dekker and a well-manicured one by Hans Gudegast on Mission: Impossible. Both play would-be assassins out to kill a defecting Iron Curtain scientist. Our group has to stop both, Dekker by force and Gudegast by sugar. The latter assignment is more interesting. Barbara Bain has the neat task of cooling Gudegast's killer instincts with a romance which seems more real than fiction.

8-10:30 — Channels 4-5 — Saturday Night at the Movies serves up that old, flavored chestnut, "White Christmas." In this Irving Berlin musical, circa 1954, Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye play war veterans determined to become postwar musical comedy stars. And aren't they lucky that Dean Jagger, once a commanding general, has a comfortable Vermont inn where they can practice their act? Their luck also continues with Rosemary Clooney and Vera Ellen, who bounce around as a sister team.

8:30-9:30 — Channels 11-6-9 — The Hollywood Palace has a perky parade of talent, hosted by Eddie Fisher. Highlights include the baritone singing "Mame" and "That's Life." There is also a dramatic reading by Agnes Moorehead, songs by the Young Americans and the Kessler Twins and comedy by Joey Forman.

This information, the indictment said, included "information relating to the electronics communications and cryptographic systems and equipment going through such equipment and the code cards connected therewith."

Malinin, listed in the indictment as a co-conspirator but not a defendant, returned to Russia shortly after Boeckenhaupt's arrest. The Soviet diplomat had been declared persona non grata.

Boeckenhaupt was a radio operator at the Pentagon before his assignment to March Air Force Base earlier this year. At March, he served as an electronics communications and cryptographic systems repairman with top secret clearance and access to top secret material.

Newspaper Calls For Weekly Holiday In South Vietnam

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A Vietnamese newspaper columnist suggested today that the holiday war truce be extended to a "weekly holiday for fighters" all year around.

"If a yearly truce is possible why not a monthly or a weekly?" asked Lee Trang in the English language Saigon Daily News.

"It is not a silly thing," Trang wrote, "to let the soldiers work during the week days and then relax on weekends."

"Both sides may peacefully meet at the same seaside or mountain resorts or at sports matches where they may enjoy life for a while, then return to their positions to resume their daily fight."

"There are 52 weeks in a year so we can save the war costs of 52 days."

Two Persons Killed In Head-on Crash

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of two persons in a grinding head-on collision in Rock County raised Wisconsin's 1966 highway fatality toll to 1,049, compared to 979 on this date a year ago and 1,029 at this time in 1964, when a record 1,059 persons died in Wisconsin accidents.

Frederick W. Zinn, 53, and Ronald Tollefson, 23, both of Milton Junction, were killed Friday night when the cars they were driving collided on Highway 59 about two miles north-east of Milton in Rock County.

Plan for State Realignment Wins Initial, Fragile Okay

Legislature and did not include it in the bill.

Hearings on the plan are scheduled Jan. 4 in Eau Claire, Jan. 5 in Green Bay, Jan. 6 in Milwaukee, and Jan. 7 in Madison.

Under the proposal, each of seven of the major departments would be headed by a single executive. They would be administration, commerce, justice, military affairs, public instruction, revenue and transportation.

New Names

The Industrial and Public Service commissions would be given new names as the departments of labor and public services, respectively. But the commission structure would be retained.

The four other departments would have an executive secretary beneath a parttime supervisory board. They would be agriculture, natural resources, social services and employee trust funds.

The commission left independent four other agencies, the Investment Board, Employment Relations Board, Historical Society and Coordinating Committee Committee for Higher Education.

The CCHE oversees the University of Wisconsin, the nine state universities and the budding vocational school system.

The largest spending figure involved in the merger is the $270 million total of requests by agencies that would be combined into the department of social services. But of that sum, $257 million stems from the present department of welfare alone.

Sen. Knowles voiced acceptance of the July 1, 1968, wedding date and said it would offer "a six-month trial period before the 1969 Legislature."

The task force decided on a narrow 8-6 vote to keep the three-man highway commission to oversee one division of the new transportation department after Sen. Robert W. Warren, R-Green Bay, objected.

"I can't see the allocation of road construction around the state on one man's decision. I think integrity is one of the things we're building in by having more than one man make the decisions."

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Police in suburban Menominee Falls say their search for the slayer of a teenage secretary Nov. 4 has been futile.

Clean-Air Laws Won't Interfere

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Proposed clean-air legislation presumably would not interfere with a local government's freedom to administer its own laws against air pollution, state officials said Friday.

Milwaukee County's Air Pollution Control Department, inquiring about a bill to be offered to the Assembly next month, said state legislation might place "unattainable standards" on local enforcement facilities.

Harvey E. Wirth, acting state sanitary engineer, told department spokesmen that state officials "have no intention of wielding a big stick."

The legislation, he said, would apply only to counties lacking anti-pollution rules or counties lax in enforcement.

The Milwaukee County group comprises engineers from industries and utilities.

Cuba Rations Toys Beginning Today

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Christmas toys went on sale in Cuba today and Havana radio warned shoppers not to fudge in waiting lines, expected to be long.

Broadcasts monitored in Miami announced Commerce Ministry instructions on lining up in orderly fashion.

"Those elements which have been acquiring (preferred) turns in line will find these without value," the ministry warned.

Each child under 14 is entitled to three toys, the broadcasts announced — one costing more than $3 and two costing less. In addition, toys costing less than 30 cents will be sold without rationing.

Your Problems

Pets Often Pests at Parties; Guests Have Right to Complain

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I belong to a bridge club. We meet once every two weeks in one another's homes.

A couple (I will call them The Z's) have two dogs the size of mules. Whenever we play bridge at the Z's home these too, I also had a husband with a great many fine qualities, but unfortunately he had a weakness for pretty girls. Every so often he just had to go off and sow a few oats. We were married six years when I first learned what was going on, but by then we had three children and I wasn't about to throw out the babies with the bath water.

Next month we will celebrate our silver wedding anniversary. My husband still strays every once in awhile but there are so many rewarding and wonderful aspects of our marriage I'd be crazy to throw him out.

The last time an "Interested Friend" said, "I want to tell you something about your husband," I replied, "There's nothing you can tell me about my husband. Why don't you tell me something about your husband?"

Please spread the word, Annie, it might make life easier for other women who have decided as I have to live peacefully with that which we cannot change. — Resigned and Content.

Dear R. & C.: Great answer and one worth remembering.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a bachelor, new in this town and still living in a hotel. There are no unmarried girls at the place where I work so a fellow has to make his contacts where he can.

Friday night I was sitting in the lobby (reading your column, in fact) when a good-looking gal struck up a conversation. She said she was free for the evening so we wound up doing the town.

The next morning my wallet was missing. I have no proof that she took it, but I think she

Neenah Short Of Substitute Instructors

Corporate Transfers, Contract Signings Drain Fill-In Ranks

NEENAH — A critical shortage of substitute teachers has developed in the Neenah Joint School District since September, because of corporate transfers from the Twin Cities and the signing of a number of substitutes to regular contracts. Supt. Donald Scott announced Friday.

The shortage is greatest at the secondary level and qualified former teachers in any academic area are asked to contact James Fricke, assistant superintendent, if they are interested in substitute teaching.

The district pays $18 a day for the first five days on any single assignment, $20 for consecutive days taught from the sixth to the fifth day and beyond that time the teacher is placed on the regular salary schedule.

Federal Aid For Oshkosh Projects Seen

Public Works Plans To Save 23 Per Cent In $1 Million Grant

OSHKOSH — Councilmen here Thursday were advised the city will put up only 77 cents of every dollar spent for a planned two-year public works program totaling an estimated $4,787,000.

City Mgr. Angus Crawford emphasized that a $1,087,000 federal grant toward four of five projects makes the construction possible for the relatively small investment of local municipal funds.

Councilmen Thursday directed advertising of a series of bond issues totaling $3,700,000 to finance the city's share of the public works package. An initial bond resolution is slated for adoption Dec. 22.

Two of the seven issues, to be joined in a single corporate purpose bond issue for sale purposes, represent a long sought goal of several recent councils. Together they provide $1 million, $700,000 for the funding of special assessments and $300,000 for the opening, widening, and improving of streets.

"This funding will give the council latitude it hasn't had in the past," Crawford pointed out. He said the fund will enable the council to meet implied commitments to pave streets as established under the present street opening policy. He predicted that, together with a recent boost in paving assessment formulas, the city will pave two miles of streets a year, enough to catch up and keep abreast of streets opened in new areas.

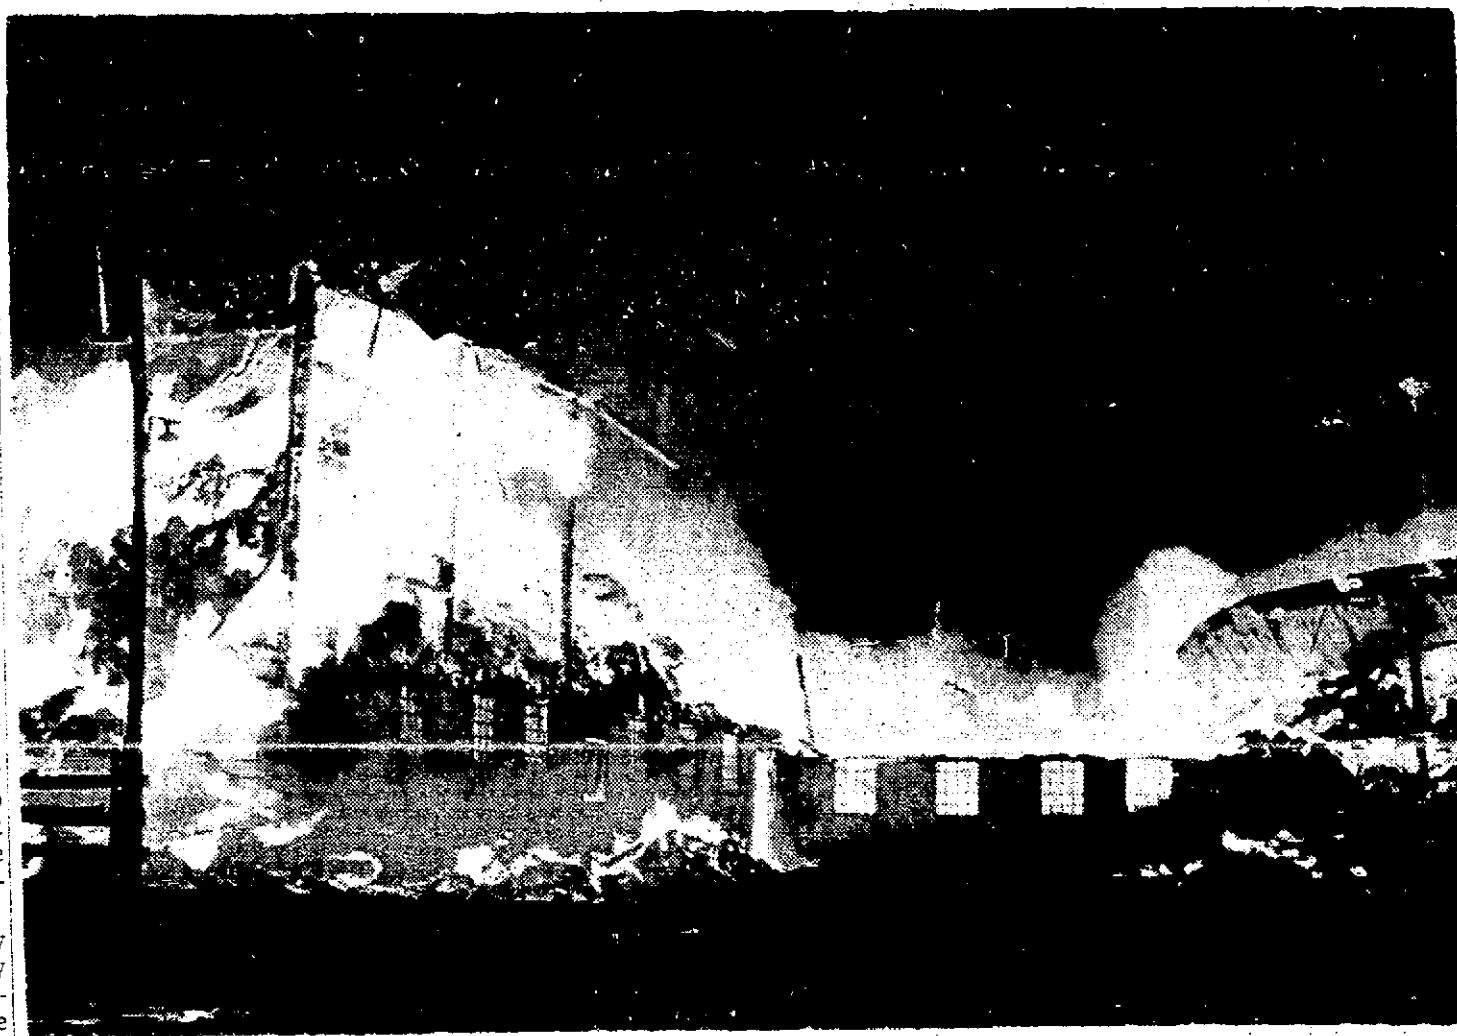

Planned for construction by the city is a $1,402,000 incinerator and some $2,170,000 in water plant and main improvements and new storm and sanitary sewers.

Winnebago County 1967 Ambulance Service Prompts Investigation

BY DON CASTONIA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

OSHKOSH — The sheriff and coroner committee held open pending further investigation of a decision on how ambulance service would be handled next year in Winnebago County.

The decision to make further investigations came Friday after it was disclosed that Winnebago County Coroner Art C. Miller's wife and son-in-law are directors of Oshkosh Ambulance, Inc., an ambulance service which is seeking to share the county contract with Moore Ambulance Service.

Duane Moore, operator of Moore Ambulance, which has had an exclusive contract with the county since 1960 to serve the southern half of the county, told the committee of Miller's connection with the new ambulance service and implied Oshkosh ambulance was started because of differences between himself and Miller.

Moore now receives a $3,000 annual subsidy from the county to maintain 24-hour service. Until a decision is made by the committee his contract will be extended on a month-to-month basis.

Numerous Differences
Moore purchased the ambulance service in 1960 from Miller before Miller became coroner. Since then, the two have had numerous differences in the handling of cases.

Moore told the committee his dispute with Miller broke into the open on a death case in which the family doctor said it was not necessary to call the coroner.

Moore said Miller told him if he did not call the coroner, "another ambulance service would." Moore added that four months later Oshkosh Ambulance started business.

He claimed that since that time he has never been called by Miller on death cases in the county and that in one accident case in the county his ambulance was "chased away" by Miller. Moore contends that according to his contract with the county, Oshkosh Ambulance does not have the authority to operate in the county except on private calls.

"Maybe I should turn my ambulance service over to my wife and run for coroner," Moore said.

Moore also had had an exclusive contract to provide ambulance service for the City of Oshkosh with a $5,400 per year subsidy. Since the start of Oshkosh Ambulance, the contract has been ended and the two services are being called on city accidents on an alternate basis by the police department. The city also no longer pays the subsidy.

A similar proposal has been made to the county by Oshkosh ambulance.

Moore told the committee he did not object to sharing county business with Oshkosh Ambulance but said if accident calls are to be alternated, the coroner also should be forced to call the services on an alternating basis.

Alternate Calls
Moore suggested each call be alternated rather than calling one service for a week and the other service the next week. "You cannot fire an ambulance crew for one week and then hire them back the next," he said.

Other guidelines were suggested by Moore before a service could be allowed to operate in the county. He said he felt the ambulance should be radio equipped on an assigned frequency, such as are his ambulances.

He said Oshkosh Ambulance operates with a citizens band radio which does not have sufficient range to cover the county.

Moore said the citizens band radio also was objectionable because it could easily be monitored, which would violate

John Kimberly Named To Industrial Board

NEW YORK, N.Y. — John R. Kimberly, president of Kimberly-Clark Corp., was elected a senior board member of the National Industrial Conference board today for a term of three years.

The conference board, founded in 1916, is an independent business and industrial fact finding through scientific research. The privacy ethics concerning possible patient condition.

Advance Training

He also suggested that proof of advance first aid training be submitted to the county before an ambulance crew was allowed to operate and that mandatory inspection of all ambulances be required.

On the subsidy, he suggested the county either split the subsidy between the two services or end the subsidy and the county assume responsibility for the collection of "bad debts" on emergency county calls.

The county now collects the bills on county calls made by the Neenah ambulance which provides service in the northern end of the county.

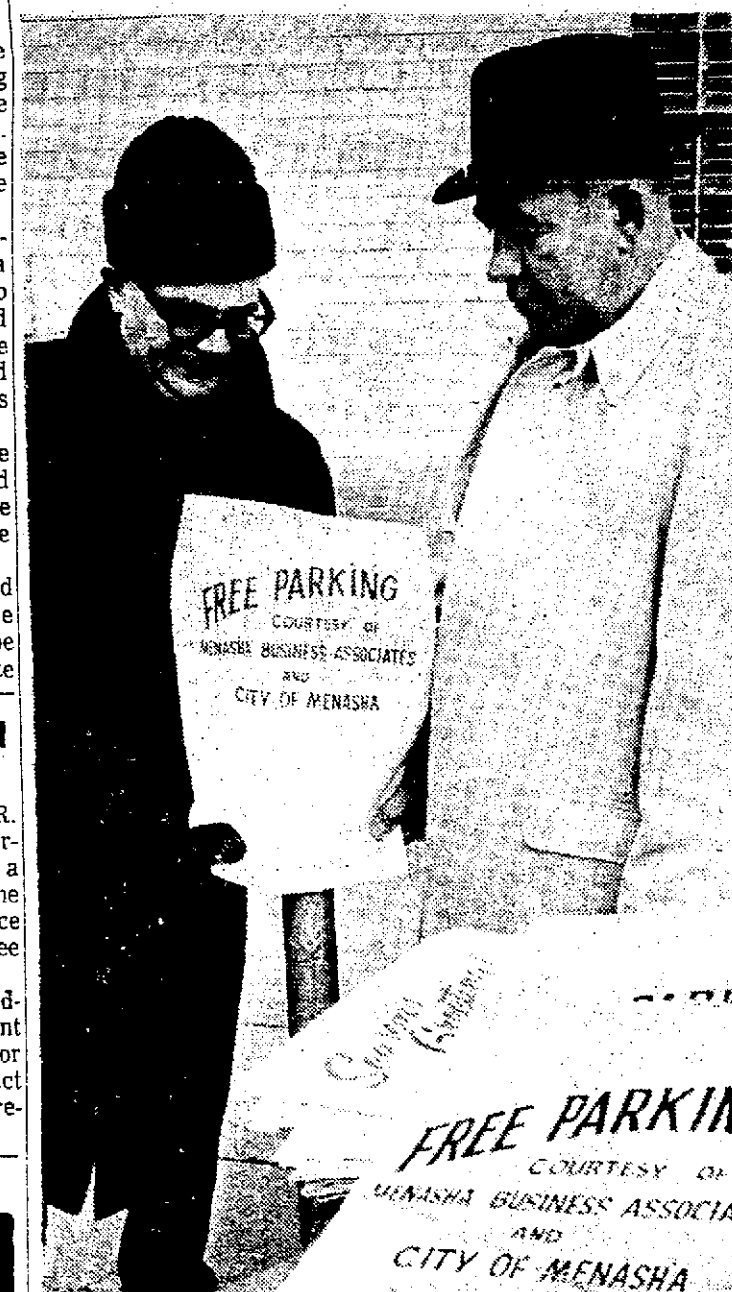

Entire County

Supv. Victor Delwiche, a committee member, asked Moore if he would be willing to bid on ambulance service for the entire county. Moore said this was not financially feasible because he could not complete rate-wise with the tax-supported Neenah ambulance in the northern end. "If the Neenah ambulance stayed in the City of Neenah I could, but they have refused to do this," he said.

Supv. Robert Wertsch, another committee member, suggested having County Corporation Counsel Gerald Engeldinger investigate and attempt to straighten out the legal questions involved.

Committee Chairman Supv. E. G. Steinhilber then suggested continuing Moore's contract on a month-to-month basis until a solution was reached.

7,400 Sold

Sales of Brigade Wreaths Exceed Last Year by 1,000

NEENAH — The Christmas wreath sale conducted by members of the Boys' Brigade ended on a happy note today as the final count showed more than 7,400 wreaths were sold this year.

The figure is almost 1,000 more than last year, according to Jack Casper, director of the Brigade.

Casper said the public response to the sale was beyond expectations and thanked the citizens of the Twin Cities who helped the Brigade prepare better programs for the coming year.

The proceeds of the sale will go toward purchasing camping and athletic equipment for next year's activities. Some of the money is already earmarked for four new rifles for the Brigade rifle team and five new tents for the sixth grade group, which has a record enrollment this year. Some sports equipment will also be purchased next year.

Casper noted the youths who sold the wreaths also picked up some spending money for Christmas presents and for next summer's camping on Ojawa Island, near Waupaca.

The wreaths sold for $2 with the boys receiving 20 cents for each order.

Menasha to Kaukauna

Data Prepared for Power Link Hearing

MENASHA — Officials of the Menasha and Kaukauna Electric Utilities are prepared for a public hearing Jan. 5 before the Public Service Commission to air plans for connecting the two systems for emergency and backup purposes, while saving money for both on future capital investments.

Before the Wisconsin-Michigan feelings against continuing the Kaukauna contract were known, the engineers had estimated total savings during the next 16 years of some $8.5 million. Because Kaukauna will have to expand its generating capacity faster without Wisconsin-Michigan support, the total savings have been reduced some $2 million, in the engineers' estimate.

The private utility currently provides some of the power used in Kaukauna, beyond the limits of the city utility's generators.

If the two municipal plants were interconnected, Wisconsin-Michigan officials have indicated they would be opposed to continuing the present hookup, since it would in effect also be linked to Menasha.

According to the engineer's report, however, Wisconsin-Michigan has indicated willingness to remain hooked with Kaukauna until the proposed link with Menasha is completed.

The savings from 1967 through 1982 would still reach an estimated $3,750,000 for Menasha and $2,770,000 for Kaukauna.

The engineers recommend in their revised report that Menasha's investments for purposes of the interconnection be scheduled in 1967-68, totaling $780,000. Kaukauna would spend $4,680,000 in the same period, $1,800,000 in 1972 and $4,900,000 in 1978.

Menasha's investments would be $330,000 for the 14-mile, 34.5 kilovolt transmission lines linking the two systems, and $450,000 for additions to its substations.

Kaukauna would also spend $330,000 for its share of the transmission line cost and $380,000 for substation additions. These expenses are all tentatively scheduled in 1967.

Kaukauna would also spend $1,650,000 in 1967 and $2.5 million in 1968 for two new gas turbine generators of 15 and 22 megawatt output; $1,650,000 for another 15 megawatt unit in 1972, with a 150,000 substation addition in the same year, and $4,750,000 for a steam plant addition and $150,000 for related substation additions in 1978.

Increase Over Class of 65

Nearly Half Neenah Graduates Continue on to College Careers

NEENAH — Some 46.1 per cent of the Neenah High School 1966 graduating class is now attending a college or university, according to Richard A. Bruha, Neenah High guidance counselor for the class.

In a class of 382, this means that 176 students are attending public or private colleges and universities, both within and outside of the state. This is an increase over last year's 43.3 per cent, according to Bruha.

Some 25 graduates are attending the University of Wisconsin at Madison, while 16 are at the Fox Valley Campus. Of the 73 students attending seven Wisconsin state universities, 54 are enrolled at Oshkosh. Sixteen students are studying at private colleges within the state, while 36 are at private colleges outside Wisconsin. Eight students are at public colleges outside of the state, and two boys are at military service academies.

Non-Collegiate

In addition, there are 6.5 per cent, or 25 students, now attending non-collegiate schools and universities.

Some ten students are enrolled at vocational-technical institutes, and three are at private technical institutes. Eight went on to private business or secretarial schools, and three are enrolled at cosmetology schools.

Only one student is attending a hospital school of nursing, a reflection of a trend toward receiving nursing training through a college or university.

Some 143 students, or 37.4 per cent of the class, have entered the business world. Trade and industry have taken some 73 students, while 40 are engaged in office occupations. Fifteen graduates are embarked on retail sales and distributive occupations, and 13 are occupied in domestic and service occupations.

Approximately 4.5 per cent of the class is presently in the military service, and 5.5 per cent are unemployed or married.

Only 17 graduates are now in the service, although Bruha said this figure will increase steadily as some students leave schools and industry and are drafted.

Appleton to Study Assessment Freeze

Committee Listed; Plan Would Spur New Business, Remodeling

Mayor George Buckley made the first move Friday to explore the possibilities of Appleton employing an assessment freeze policy, by listing those who would serve on a special study group.

The common council recently approved a suggestion by Ald. Roy Pointer (14th) to determine whether a freeze policy would be applicable here.

Pointer, council president, indicated Milwaukee and some other cities have adopted the policy to encourage major construction, location of new businesses, and renovation of older buildings, in central city areas.

Plans Committee

Buckley said he planned to appoint a nine-member blue ribbon committee which would gather information and then report to the council.

Voting members on the committee would be Buckley, Pointer, Ald. Al Stoegbauer (4th), whose ward covers a good part of the downtown area; Otto Bytof, real estate agent and civic leader; and John B. Torinus, Appleton Area Chamber of Commerce president and editor of The Post-Crescent.

Serving on the committee in advisory and research capacity will be John Pierre, city assessor; Henry Schreve, finance director; Walter Rasmussen, municipal planner; and David Geenen, city attorney.

Lack of Interest

Buckley and other city officials have been concerned about the lack of interest by local groups in undertaking downtown developments.

Under the assessment freeze system employed in Milwaukee, major developers are encouraged to undertake projects, having the land and improvements valuation (before redevelopment) held at the same figure for a given number of years.

There is a question whether the freeze is legal. It has never been tested in the high courts.

Those who make major renovations to existing buildings also get an assessment "break" in some cities.

Appleton Man Gets 2 Years In Reformatory

Robert C. Wohlrobe Admits Burglaries, Thefts in 4 Counties

Commenting that "this wave of burglaries by a number of you fellows cannot be allowed to continue," Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller Friday afternoon sentenced Robert C. Wohlrobe, 21, 1219 N. Lawe St., to two years in the state reformatory on 13 counts of burglary and two theft charges stemming from a four-county area.

Wohlrobe, charged following investigation by Appleton and Outagamie County authorities, earlier this month pleaded guilty of burglarizing the Saddle Shop at Dale, Andrews Oil Co., Kaukauna, and the South Side Service Station, 1623 S. Oneida St., during August and September.

A pre-sentence investigation had been ordered, and Friday Wohlrobe pleaded guilty of 12 additional charges brought by Winnebago, Manitowoc and Waupaca Counties. The Appleton man, through his court-appointed attorney, had asked for consideration.

One in Winnebago

The lone Winnebago County burglary was at the American Legion Club, 1102 S. Harrison St., Neenah, on Aug. 13.

All of the Manitowoc County burglaries occurred Aug. 3. Included were those at the Hillside Service Station in the Town of Cato, the Texaco Service Station at Reedsville, and Lehman Implement Co., Grahl Service Station and the Whitelaw Cooperative, all in Whitelaw.

The Waupaca County charges involved burglaries Aug. 5 at the Weyauwega Union Cooperative, Real Estate Builders, Inc., Friendly Bar, and the Coast-to-Coast Store, all in Weyauwega.

The final two charges against Wohlrobe concerned the theft of 15 cartons of cigarettes and $245 in cash from the Friendly Tavern, Aug. 5, and the theft of $801 in cash from the Coast-to-Coast Store in Weyauwega Aug. 5.

Driver for Schroeder

Wohlrobe's attorney contended that the Appleton man served mainly as driver and lookout for Warren (Pepper) Schroeder, 19, of Appleton, who last month was sentenced to 10 years in the state prison on 43 counts of burglary and a charge of attempted armed burglary. The attorney said Wohlrobe had been drinking heavily before each incident and added that the man was "not a hard core member of the gang involved in the rash of recent burglaries."

The attorney asked for probation. However, Judge Keller replied, "If I granted you (Wohlrobe) probation, I would have to go into my chambers and resign as judge. I do not intend to do that."

The judge told the Appleton man, "If you got the maximum sentence and the terms were to run consecutively, you'd be in prison the rest of your life." Each of the 15 counts constituted felonies.

Judge Keller sentenced Wohlrobe to two years on the first count (the burglary at Dale) and two years on each of the succeeding counts, with the sentences to be served concurrently.

Appleton to Form Citizens Committee on Development

Group Would Advise, Help Carry Out City's Comprehensive Plan

A special citizens advisory committee aimed at closing Appleton's community development gap will be appointed soon by Mayor George Buckley.

Buckley made the disclosure Friday afternoon as he sent personal letters to more than 40 groups, representing a cross-section of Appleton citizenry, seeking their assistance.

The mayor, following the recommendations of the Harland Bartholomew comprehensive plan, hopes to announce a complete list of appointments to a Citizens Advisory Committee on Community Development.

Study Recommendations

Its purpose will be to study recommendations contained in the city's comprehensive plan concerning renewal, rehabilitation and conservation of buildings in commercial industrial and residential areas.

Appleton is one of the few cities in the Fox Valley which have not applied for eligibility under the federal urban renewal program.

Some cities are relying solely on federal grants and percentage matching funds for urban development programs while others have established private-public supported urban renewal projects.

A complete review of Appleton's central business district in the comprehensive plan report shows that many commercial buildings are in need of major facelifting, while one block on the south side of College Avenue should be designated as a complete renewal area.

To Generate Interest

Buckley and the common council hope to generate citizen interest and support for a program which would combine local government, state, federal, local and outside private capital in improving the business district.

In addition, the proposed committee would check other phases of the plan which includes - convincing property owners in some older neighborhoods to make necessary improvements before blight becomes extensive.

Buckley said he would expedite formation of the committee in accordance with "the policy of keeping Appleton a modern, up-to-date community; a good place to work and a good place to live."

"The committee will explore and examine many facets of the physical community and make recommendations to the common council on community betterment programs," Buckley said. "Its effectiveness will be directly related to the diligence of the people serving on the committee."

City Being Bypassed

Buckley and other city officials hope to determine why outside firms are bypassing Appleton to locate in surrounding towns where "tax islands" are being created.

Sources have said a major department store chain had hoped to build a multi-million dollar retail parking complex in downtown Appleton within the past year but could not obtain a suitable location within economic limits when it tried to acquire property.

Buckley is calling on various organizations to support and assist the committee he is forming. He envisions the appointment of several subcommittees within the main group to study various aspects of community development.

"My office extends its sincerest thanks to you and your group for your anticipated cooperation in this most important civic task," Buckley wrote.

The mayor said he hopes to have replies by mid-January so committee appointments can be confirmed by the common council, and the group start to function.

"There may be outside money available to assist Appleton but unless we start moving, it may be money we might end up without," Buckley declared.

'Old Glory' Presented to Appleton

Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, sent the City of Appleton a Christmas present today.

It's an 8 by 5-foot American flag, which was flown atop the capitol in Washington, D.C.

The package was received by Mayor George Buckley at his city hall office this morning.

Recent Suggestion

Receipts of "Old Glory" was attributable in part to an idea of Lawrence (Weasel) Reinke, 803 N. Drew St., a veteran city employee.

Reinke, employed in the department of public works, suggested recently to the mayor that a large-sized flag be attached to the tall flagpole in front of the new municipal service building on E. Glendale Avenue.

"I told the mayor what could be better than one which had flown at sometime or another atop the U.S. capitol," Reinke said.

Buckley thought Reinke had a good idea and wrote to Rep. Byrnes to see what could be worked out.

In addition to the flag, which will replace the smaller 3 by 5 foot banner presently waving in front of the new garage building, Byrnes also enclosed a letter which read:

"This is to certify that the accompanying flag was flown over the U.S. capitol. I understand it is for the City of Appleton."

It was signed by J. George Stewart, Washington, D.C., architect of the capitol.

New Post Office at Little Chute Assured

Approval Expected Soon for New Privately Built Facility; Should be Ready Next Christmas

LITTLE CHUTE — United States Post Office Department was informed in August that the officials said Friday that a new postal department had received post office building will be approved soon for this village.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, told The Post-Crescent that he has been assured the building will be built privately and leased to the eighth district Rep. John Byrnes, R-Green Bay, attempted to get further action, but village officials continued to receive polite replies from Washington with no results.

Kilsdonk said he is "very happy to have at least some action being taken" on obtaining a new post office. He said that if everything goes on schedule the new facility could be in operation use by next Christmas.

Need Space

A survey taken by the postal department in 1959 indicated that the 1,300-square-foot work area was insufficient and that an enclosed area of at least 2,400 feet was needed.

In June, 1965, the post office department advertised for space and set requirements at 2,400 square feet of enclosed area, 4,200 square feet for parking and maneuvering and a loading platform of about 200 feet.

Spells Defeat

The outcome in no uncertain terms spelled defeat for the first major attempt to organize a large unit of white collar workers in the Fox Cities region.

After the union requested the election, the company stipulated that it would agree to the balloting.

All But Three Vote

All but three eligible employees in the clerical work unit cast votes. There were no challenges, according to Kenneth Rock, NLRB election agent.

A good share of the production employees at Appleton Coated — one of the areas largest employers — are already represented by the United Mine Workers.

A small unit of quality control employees have Teamsters Local 563 as their bargaining representative.

The election was conducted at the plant during the afternoon.

Valley Burglary Spree Nets 6-Year Sentence

Terry Kapp, 21, Appleton, Admits Crimes In Outagamie, Calumet, Waupaca Counties

Nineteen burglaries in three counties brought a six-year state reformatory term Friday afternoon for a 21-year-old Appleton man whom the court was told could have been charged with several more offenses.

Outagamie County Judge Keller imposed the three consecutive 2-year sentences on Terry R. Kapp, 21, 1012 W. Summer St. In sentencing the Appleton man, Judge Keller again called attention to the recent burglary spree in the Fox River Valley, Co., Baer's Beverages, DX saying, "Burglary is one of our more serious crimes and we in this area of the state have had more than our share."

Kapp, who earlier had pleaded guilty of the 19 counts and who was awaiting a pre-sentence investigation, was charged with burglaries from July through October in Outagamie, Calumet and Winnebago Counties.

9 in Appleton

There were nine Appleton burglaries, including those at Lawrence University's Union Hall, the Knights of Columbus Club, Slim Otto's Bar, Appleton Yacht Club, Appleton Chair Co., Haupt Auto Sales, Alko Super Market, Sassy's Bar and Jack's Bar.

Kapp was charged, following investigation by Outagamie County authorities, with burglarizing the American Legion Club, Saur Trunk and Equipment Co., and Howie's Fiesta, all in the Town of Grand Chute.

At the request of Kapp, through his court-appointed attorney, charges from Winnebago and Calumet Counties were consolidated with the Appleton and Outagamie counts.

Hit Beverage Store

Kapp burglarized Stein's South Side Beverages, 2518 S. Oneida St., three times during September and October.

Winnebago County burglaries included those at Transport Oil, Baer's Beverages, DX, Sunray Oil Co., and Chef's Barbeque House, all in the Town of Menasha.

Judge Keller sentenced Kapp to two years each on burglaries committed in Outagamie, Winnebago and Calumet Counties, and a six-year term for the consolidated charges.

Kapp also was sentenced to six months in the Outagamie County Jail on his plea of guilty to a misdemeanor theft at the Riverview Country Club in Appleton. That term also is to be served at the same time as the three two-year sentences.

Authorities told the court Friday that Kapp could have been formally charged with several more incidents, including burglaries, attempted burglaries, vandalism to cars in 1962, and with the tipping of headstones on one occasion at Riverside Cemetery.

Fire Destroys Garage, Scorches 2 Dwellings

Appleton police were told that a boy about 14 years old, carrying a flashlight, was seen running from the area of 802 E. Pacific St., just before five broke out in a garage at that address about 8:45 p.m. Friday.

The fire destroyed the large frame garage owned by Michael Kappell, burned the rear of the Kappell home, scorched the east side of a house at 808 E. Pacific St., burned the east side of the garage at that address, and scorched the garage roof at the Harold Crowe home, 608 N. Meade St.

Saw Boy Running

Appleton Fire Department officials and police are continuing their investigation into the cause of the blaze. A person living near the fire scene told a patrolman at the scene Friday night that he was in an upstairs bedroom when he heard a noise from the garage, carrying a flashlight. He said he looked out the window a short time later and noticed the garage was burning.

The fire was discovered by Lawrence Seidl, operator of Larry's Ambulance Service, and his assistant, Robert Van Nuland, who were southbound on Meade, returning from an emergency call. Seidl notified the fire department on his two-way ambulance radio.

Alert Occupants

Seidl and Van Nuland then alerted occupants at both 802 and 808 E. Pacific St., none of whom were aware that flames were shooting high into the air. Alan Mader, an Appleton police patrolman, and his family live downstairs at 808 E. Pacific St. He was on duty at the fire.

Firemen feared for a time that there may have been ammunition stored in the burning garage, since 802 E. Pacific St. is the address of Kappell's Gun sales firm.

The garage reportedly was filled with lumber, paints, barrels of paper and other material.

Firemen used smoke ejectors to clear both houses of smoke. Telephone wires were burned off at 802 E. Pacific St., firemen said. Van Nuland and Seidl pushed a car from the driveway in front of the burning garage.

Firemen remained at the scene about an hour.

Vandals Enter Parish School, Steal Cash

Vandals caused considerable damage and stole an undetermined amount of petty cash during a Friday night break-in at St. Thomas More Catholic School, 1810 N. McDonald St.

Appleton police, who were notified of the damage this morning, said entry into the building was gained by breaking a large ground level basement window on the east side. The spot where entry was made is almost completely hidden from view, police said.

Once inside the building, the vandals smashed a hole in a first floor door glass, then unlocked the door permitting entry onto the first floor.

The same method was used to gain entry to the second floor office, where several drawers were pried open. The money was taken from the drawers.

Entry also was gained to the top floor by punching a hole in door glass.

Police are continuing their investigation.
